THE MARION DAILY STAR.

VOL XIII. NO 231.

MARION, OHIO, SATURDAY, AUGUST 16, 1890.

PRICE 3 CENTS

Items of Interest from Various Places.

NINTH DISTRICT CONVENTION.

State Senator Wilson Nominated for Congress by the Republicans in the Ninth District-Still Battling in the Twentieth D = let=Other Ohio News.

ustrs, O., Aug. 16.—The Repubsortion or the Ninth district was not be countries of Franklin. Madi-on and Pickaway. An individual delegate presented the name of Col. W. J. Elliott, the service pension candidate. Hon. John F. Locke presented the name of State Senator Thomas B. Wilson, of Madison county, and Pickaway county and before any votes were cast for Elhott. his name was withdrawn, the balloting suspended, and Wilson nominated in application tion adjourned.

Taylor Gaining.

CLEVELAND. O., Aug. 16.-The Twentinued the fight without result. The 277th ballot was taken by the Australian on the motion of Mr. James R. Garneld.
It showed a loss for Tibballs and a gain for Taylor as follows: Taylor, 98;
Wickham. 42; Burrows, 31; Johnson, 39; Tibballs, 25. Taylor lacks only twenty-one votes of a nomination and seems to be gaining slowly and steadily.
The convention adjourned at 7 p. m.
till Saturday. R. W. Sadler, of Summit, withdrew the name of Judge Tibbals, and balloting was then continued mit, withdrew the name of Judge Tib-bals, and balloting was then continued under Garfield's plan, which required fully an hour and a half to cast one ballot. Result of 280th ballot, which was lost before adjournment was: Tay-lor 104, Wickham F6. Burrows 8, John-202, 88 the price of the casket being $100, and received the balance in cash. The undertaker took the casket where ordered, and failing to locate the deceased, came back to find he had been cleverly swindled.

After a Robber.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 16.—A deputy sheriff from Allegan county, Mich., apbelongs to an organized band of rob-Robbed and Murdered.

CRESTLINE, O., Ang. 16.—There is great excitement over the death of John Kirtland, who was for many years the foreman of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago carpenter shops at Pittsburg. He was found dead just back of his residence. He had left the shops at midwight. His worth and menas was midnight. His watch and money was gone, and it is supposed he was sand-bagged.

Ohio Man Drowned Out West.

DAYTON, O., Aug. 15.—The wife of Henry Weiffenbach received a dispatch from Tacoma. Wash., yesterday stating that her husband was drowned in that her husband was drowned in Pugent sound. The body will be brought here for burial. Weiffenbach had been absent two years.

CARROLLTON, O., Aug. 16.-During

PITTSBURG. Aug. 16.—A dastardly attempt was made Thursday night to wreck an Atlantic City excursion train on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at a point twenty miles from this city, where the road runs along the Youghiogheny river, thirty feet above the water. The attempt was partially successful and re-

Windson, Ont., Aug. 16.—John C. Brosi, accused of forging his uncle's name in Pittsburg, Pa., was before Magistrate Bartlett vesterday, and was again remanded for eight days to await the arrival of extradition papers. If these documents are not forthcoming at the expiration of that time Brost will be

Nominated for the Third Term

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 16. -A Hudson, Wis., special to The Tribune says: The KING OF THE CUBAN FOREST. How Manuel Garcia Levies Tribute on

Rallroad Campanics. NEW YORK, Aug. 16. -The latest advices from Havana state that the out-law Manuel Garcia, who styles himself the "King of the Cuban Forest," has been trying his hand at train weeking. His ordinary method of making a living is to take his gang of twenty or thirty ruffians into one or another of the small Cuban towns and keep them there until the residents pay him to go away. The blackmail thus levied is converted into blackmail thus levied is converted into rum and provisions.

In the prolonged dissipation which ensues the brigands fall to fighting among themselves and some of them get killed. When the rum and provisions are exhausted Garcia leads the band forth on another forage.

Recently the old way of minimum and provisions are exhausted for the property of the old way of the province of the property of the old way of the property of the old way of the property of the old way of the property of the band forth on another forage.

Recently the old way of raising money seems to have palled on Garcia's taste. He concluded that there is more to be made out of the railroads and has accordingly devoted his attention to them. On July 31 he sent to the president of the Villaneuva railroad a letter demanding $23,000. He stated that a failure to county with his request by Aug. 7

ing $25,000. He stated that a failure to comply with his request by Aug. 7 would probably result in a serious interruption of traffic. The officials of the railway paid no attention to the communication. On the 5th inst. the "King" led his men to a place called El Palma and tore up about 150 yards of track on the side of a sharp curve. The work was done in broad daylight, but nobody dared to interfere seven take the trouble to report the fact to the nearest telegraph station. legraph station.

Late in the afternoon a freight train came along. The engineer did not perceive the danger until it was too late to stop and a bad wreck ensued. Garcia and his gang promptly arrived and di-rected Conductor Rodriguez to tell them which of his cars contained provisions.
Rodriguez replied by warning the outlaws not to meddle with any of the freight, and showed a revolver. A fight followed in which Garcia and his thirty collegenes made short work of the five colleagues made short work of the five trainmen. Rodriguez was killed, the engineer, the firemen and one of the brakemen were wounded and the other brakeman ran away.
Loading their mules with whatever to the mountains before the arrival of the guard. Garcia left two letters at the scene of the wreck. One was addressed to the captain of the civil guard, the scene of the wreck. One was addressed to the captain of the civil guard, and said, among other things: "This train has been wrecked, and the most valuable part of its cargo carried off by Manuel Garcia and his men, whom you have previously tried to capture. You are welcome to try to catch us again, but I know you will not succeed. The whole government of Spain cannot catch us."

The second letter was for the president of the road. It said: "You see I have kept my word. It would have paid you to have sent me that $25,000. I write this to assure you that I mean to have the money. You can send it now or wait until I have wrecked a few mere trains. If you are wise you will forward at once. If you fail to send it before Friday, Aug. 15, I shall assume that you want more trains wrecked."

The Havana military authorities have detailed a large force to hunt Garcia, but nervous people are refraining from extending their patronage to Garcia, but nervous people are refraining from extending their patronage to the railroads.

RAPID TRANSIT INDEED.

A Bicycle Railroad That Promises Big

New York, Aug. 16.-A mile in thirty-three seconds was the rate at which a party of newspaper men were whirled along the Boynton Bicycle rail-way Thursday from Gravesend to Bar-rows' hotel at Brighton, Coney Island.

Eben Moody Boynton, the president of the company which has built the road, was on hand to explain its operations. The wheels of the car are direct ly under the center, with a double flange grasping the rail. The car is prevented from toppling over by double wheels attached to the top of the car and running one on each side of a continuous wooden beam, held up by the framework on either side of the track. The engine employed is a bicycle also.

The car is run on the principle of a hoop in motion, which, the faster it goes, is the less likely to wobble or fall over. Mr. Boynton says his scheme is practi-cal for elevated roads and some engi-neering papers have already declared that it is destined to revolutionize the present system of passenger transportation. Mr. Boynton says he can carry 1,000 passengers at the rate of ninety miles an hour continuously, or 600 passengers at 100 miles an hour.

Had Better Make Himself Scarne. DRESDEN, O., Aug. 16.—Miss Ella Dewar, a highly respected young lady of this place, was assaulted and raped by a tramp just outside the city limits about noon Thursday. She and a nephew were out fishing, and she strayed off a short distance to pick a few strayed on a snort distance to pick a few berries from the bushes, when the brute rushed upon her, knecking her insensi-ble and committing his hellish design. A posse of citizens is now scouring the country, and if found he will be dangled at the end of a rope.

Looks Like a Murder.

PHISBURG, Aug. 16.-In the town of Homesteal, ten miles east of here, the body of John R. Sheets was found last Sunday morning on the railroad track badly mangled. The doctors think they have found a bullet hole in the man's head. They contend that the body was placed on the track after death. Sheets was an Orangeman, and the members of that fraternity claim be was mur-dered by those whom he had angered by

BOSTON, Aug. 16.—It was unofficially announced Thursday night that Admiral Walker had been ordered to Washing-ton to take the presidency of a naval Dun & Company's Weekly Review of Trade.

LEGITIMATE BUSINESS LARGE.

It Exceeds That of Last Year By About Ten Per Cent. and the Outlook for the Future Seems Very Encouraging-Busi-

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: Industries are doing rather less, and the specula ors are doing more. That is the week's history in brief, but the volume of legitimate business is still very large, exceeding last year's at this season by about 10 per cent., and the outlook for the fall trade is considered excellent at almost all commercial centers. The general average of prices of commodi-ties is rapidly rising and has advanced more than 2 1-2 per cent. during the past week. At the first purchase of silver bullion under the new law, the price paid for 300,000 ounces was a shade above the London prices, and the offerings are said to have been about 1,000,-

The official crop report sustained fears of serious injury to wheat, corn and oats, but indicated that the yield of cotoats, but indicated that the plant of the ton is likely to be rather larger than that of last year. Wheat has advanced four and one-half cents with sales of 30,000,000 bushels here; oats one cent, and corn having been pushed quite higher before the report spreared, has since declined one and one-half cents on sales of eight and one-half million bushels. Pork is fifty cents per barrel. bushels. Pork is fifty cents per barrel lower, but hogs are coming forward in great numbers and do not advance. Cotton has fallen three-sixteenths, but is still so high that purchasers are limited. Coffee has not changed. Oil has risen two and three-fourth cents, and hides and leather are strong. The potato crop is short and prices high, and the minor metals are about steady at recent prices though dull.

Money is snug and firm at old rates at Chicago, tighter at 7 to 8 per cent. at St. Louis, and in fair demand at about usual rates elsewhere. About a million usual rates elsewhere. About a million has been sent west from this city during the week, and the treasury has taken in $1,700,000 more than it has paid out. But the Bank of England has gained $7,326,000 gold, and while gold rises in premium at Buenos Ayres again, the foreign demand is not felt here at

The reports from other cities are gen-The reports from other cities are generally favorable, no complaint being anywhere made as to the volume of current business. Chicago notes that drouth in some localities has affected crops; that purchases will be diminished, but the injury is not yet supposed in commercial circles to be of serious magnification. The day goods and clothing commercial circles to be of serious mag-nitude. The dry goods and clothing sales exceed last year, and collections were never better. St. Louis notes a fair volume of trade, though less atrength than last week. At Milwaukee rains are held to have improved crop prospects. St. Paul reports the crops equal to anticipations, and Minneapolis equal to anticipations, and Minneapolis notes a good humber trade and satisfactory building, though low water restricts the flour output. At Omaha erage; at Detroit excellent, with manufacturing works fully employed, and at Pittsburg and Cleveland no especial change is seen. Philadelphia reports active demand for dry goods, a stronger market for groceries, and a strong and healthy market for leather, shoes and paper.

A heavy decline appears in the weekly output of pig iron, which was 164.798 tons Aug. 1, against 175,727 July 1, and 180,791 June 1. Prices show little change, though one large southern concern is reported to be cutting liberally. The demand for finished products is full and well sustained, and some forms of plate iron are a little higher. The wool manufacture shows no improvement, and many makers express growing disgust at the scantiness of purchases, except for the cheaper grades. Wool does not advance, and the heavy imports of goods continue. Coal is very dull, and the output still falls below last year's. Dry goods jobbers note that southern and western buyers are more numerous in this market than usual, but while cotton goods are well sold up, the demand for woolens is only fair. for weelens is only fair.

The exports of merchandise from New York fall below the last year's by 29 percent, for half of August, while the imports continue very heavy, and those conditions, with the advance in speculative markets, are not entirely favora-

Business failures during the last seven days, as reported to R. G. Dun & Company, number for the United States, 174; Canada, 23; total, 197; as compared with 208 last week. For the correspond-ing week of last year, total 213, representing 181 failures in the United States and 32 in Canada. Collision on the Race Track.

Lawson, Mo., Aug. 16.—A collision occurred on the race track here yesterday between a horse ridden by Eugene Arthur and a trotter and sulky driver by George Sweet. Drivers, horses and sulky were thrown into a confused mass. Arthur's neck was broken and injuries to Sweet's spine and head will can death. The horses were so badly injured they were shot.

Chicago Switchmen Strike.

Chicago witchmen and switchmen on the Wabash railroad in this city struck yesterday because the pay car failed to arrived. All switching was stopped and the road practically tied up. The trouble will probaing was stopped and the rouble will proba-cally tied up. The trouble will proba-bly be settled to-morrow. It is stated the pay car was a day late in starting, the pay car was a day late in starting. owing to a delay in making up the pay

CHICAGO WATER FAMINE. The Packing Houses Said to Use the Supply.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—There 102,000 people in the annexed district known as the Town of Lake. These people, though within the city limits of Chicago. are within the city limits of Chicago, are practically without water sepply or fire protection. They are now preparing a petition setting out their grievances and giving some idea of the terrible state of affairs. This petition is being signed in all parts of the district.

At no time since last May, except on Sundays, has there been a drop of water above the first floor of any building in the district. Water is running on the first floors only after midnight for a few hours and at irregular intervals during the day. People who have tenants stay up at night and catch a supply for next day in tube and buckets. Water for washing clothes is taken from fire plugs at night, and is ofter carried for squares. Plasterers work at night because they at night, and is ofter carried for squares.

Plasterers work at night because they can get no water with which to mix mortar during the day. The bathtub has become a useless ornament. The streets have not been sprinkled even once during the summer.

The lack of water for household and bathing restreets is anongch of a culamic.

bathing purposes is enough of a calami-ty, but there has been untold suffering bathing purposes is enough of a canamity, but there has been untold suffering from thirst. Water has been peddled from door to door at ten cents for two gallons, and the people bought it readily. The water famine is caused by the packing houses using all the water pumped into the mains. The monster Keeley suction pumps empty the pipes as fast as the supply comes in from Hyde Park water works.

The people de not hesitate to charge the packing house proprietors with purposely causing a water famine so that the city will allow the packing houses to run a large main down Fortieth street to the lake for the exclusive use of the packers and thus permit them to escape paying any water tax.

escape paying any water tax.

Sam. Small is a Methodist.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 16.—Sam. Small, the evangelist, in passing through this city left a note addressed to the editor of a morning newspaper, in which he said: "I am a member of the Methodist said: "I am a member of the Methodist Episcopal church; have been duly ordained deacon in the same by Bishop W. X. Ninde, and located by him officially as president of the Utah university at Ogden, Utah. If my name and church status have at all been bandied between the Methodist and Episcoopal societies of Atlanta, Ga., it has been a local divertisement of their own contrivance, wholly unwarranted and illetrivance, wholly unwarranted and ille-

The Emperor's Whereabouts.

Berlin, Aug. 16.—The German imperial yacht Hohenzollern with Emperor William on board arrived at Arkone yesterday. His majesty's sone boarded the yacht at that place and remained with their father for a quarter

Powderly in New York.

New York, Aug. 16. - General Maste Workman Powderly, Secretary John W. Hays and J. J. Holland, of the general executive board, Knights of Labor, arrived at Jersey City at 8:55 p. in yester-

Rev. Mr. Newman Under the Flag-SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Right Rev. John P. Newman, D.D., of New York, arrived Thursday on the steamship City of Pexin from Japan, where he has been helding a company of the steamship City of Pexin from Japan, where he has been helding a company of the steamship City of the steamship Ci holding a conference.

BASE BALL

NATIONAL LEAGUE. At Cincinnati-Cincinnati 2, Chicago 9 At New York-New York 3, Philadel ohia 2.

At Boston-Boston 4, Brooklyn 6. At Cleveland - Cleveland 15. Pitts burg 0. PLAYERS' LEAGUE.

At New York-New York 5, Brooklyn 4 At Boston—Boston 7, Philadelphia 3 At Chicago—Chicago 3, Pittsburg 1. At Cleveland-Cleveland 2, Buffalo 11.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION. Columbus -- Columbus 2, Syra-

At Toledo-Toledo 14, Brooklyn 11. Weather Bulletin.

Fair weather; southeasterly winds; warmer in northern, stationary temperature in southern portion.

THE MARKETS. Review of the Stock, Money and Cattle Markets for Aug. 15.

Wall street.

Money on call loaned at 5@7 per cent. Exchange steady: posted rates, 484% 488%; actual rates, 483% 4883% for sixty days and 487% 4881%; for demand. Governments steady: currency sixes, 112% bid; fours coupon, 123% bid; fours and a halfs do 108% bid.

STOCE QUOTATIONS. The following were the 4 p. m. figure-

Erie 2.5 Rock Island 5. Lake Shore 10°S St. Paul 71°4 Lake N. 874 West. Union 83% (meinosti.

WHEAT-SIG PLACE

WHEAT—Bog Pages
Corn—50@57c.
Wood—Unwashed fine merino, 1701°c.
%-blood combing, 220/25c; medium detaine and clothing, 250/25c; fraid, 170/18c, meand clothing, 250/25c; fraid, 170/18c, meand clothing, 250/25c; fraid, man act fine shipping $3.566.50; force and incomes shipping $3.566.50; common to rough packing. $3.0066.50; force good light, $1,006.50; force igs, $3.60 g 3 SHEEP—$2.37 to 32. LAVES-$3 25 76 9.

Patsburg. CATTLE—Prime, 24 5 04.56, good, $4.00 64.25; fair, $3 20-23.15; common, $3 25-2 Hous-Good corn-fed. $4.15@4.30:

A Day's Happenings at the National Capital.

AMERICAN PORK ABROAD.

The President Sends a Letter to the Sen ate on the Fishery Question-Proceedings of the House and Senate-Various

Other Washington Dispatches. WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.-The president sent to the senate yesterday, in tries with absolute impartiality. The compliance with the senate resolution of July 26, all correspondence not already submitted to congress, touching the efforts made by this government to secure the modification or repeal by the

In his letter of transmittal to the president. Acting Secretary Wharton, of the state department says: "This correspondence discloses the important fact that ence discloses the important fact that the French government now practically places its exclusion of our pork products upon economic instead of sanitary grounds. As this policy of exclusion, as a measure for the protection of the domestic products of Franca is applied only to the United States, the depart-ment has not failed to protect against the discrimination as unjust.

the discrimination as unjust."
In a letter from Mr. Reid to Secretary Blaine, dated June 28, 1889, in answer to a letter from the latter already published, Mr. Reid said that any steps taken towards recalling the attention of the French government to the subject would seem inopportune. He also says that the French government rather favors the removal of the prohibition. On July 18, Acting Secretary Wharton wrote to Mr. Reid, approving his suggestions.

gestions.

A letter from W. B. Franklin, commissioner general of the United States at the Paris exposition, to Mr. Blaine, gives the sub-tance of an interview between Messrs, Reid and Franklin, and Mr. Spullar the Franch minister of for Mr. Spuller, the French minister of foreign affuirs, at which Mr. Spuller admitted that the citizens of France did not believe that the consumption of not believe that the consumption of American pork by them would injure the health of the consumers.

Mr. Spuller added, however, that there would be difficulty in having the prohibition removed on account of the prohibitionist feeling. Mr. Reid was assured that Mr. Spuller was quite willing to reopen the question of prohibition of pock products. In response to an invitation given by Mr. Reid to inspect the American pork products at the exposition. Mr. Spuller, on Nov. 26, exposition, Mr. Spuller, on Nov. 26, 1889, sent a note stating that in the opinion of his colleague, who had charge of the health department, an inspection of the meat shown in the exhibition would not have the importance Mr. Reid's letter several to give it as the superior ter seemed to give it, as the superior quality of the meat already established by rewards would not prove that the mass of American hog products is equally good.

Included in the correspondence is a letter from Mr. Blaine to Mr. Reid, endorsing a letter from the secretary of agriculture, giving a history of the quote Mr. Blaine, "imposed by the governments of France, Germany and Great Britain against the importation of American live animals and hog products." In his letter, which is dated March 4, 1890, Mr. Blaine instructs Mr. Reid to express the hope to the Franch.

"It cannot be believed that, with a full understanding of the case, the full understanding of the photographers association convention took place yesterday, when the memorial of Daguerre, the inventor of the art of sun painting, was unveiled.

"Your excellency has been necessarily much preoccupied of late with other matters but Lorentz believed that, with a full understanding of the case, the Photographers association convention took place yesterday, when the memorial of Daguerre, the inventor of the art of sun painting, was unveiled. Reid to express the hope to the French authorities, that the French government "may now be prepared to extend equita-ble relief from the unjust measures." Mr. Blaine ands that the United States ministers to England and Germany have been similarly instructed. Early in July last, Mr. Reid called or M Ribat, the French minister of for eign affairs, and in a letter to Secretary Blame, date! July 11, he says that during the interview, M. Ribat contin ned, as he had done on every similar occasion previously, to state that the agitation over the McKinly bill made any act on on this point extremely diffi-cult. Mr. Reid protested that France was the aggresor and should take the first step.

A voluminous letter, dated July 3, was sent to M. Ribat by Mr. Reid. The American minister in this com-munication endeavors to show M. Riba the mistake France is making in excluding American pork, and quotes statis tics to carry out his argument. He hints at a possible prohibition of French wines by the United States, owing to the growth of the wine industry in this country, and refers to the effect such action would have on France.

On July 11, 1880, M. Ribat, sent a note to Mr. Reid in which he said that the difficulties in the way of removing the prohibit a nave been attenuated by measures which were finally passed or voted on by the house representatives, "and when do not fail to raise just complains on the part of the French government. M. Rust referred to the tariff bill and the cust ms administrative bill.

Mr. Reed, in a letter to M. Rinat. dated day 28, 1800, asks pardon for en-deavising to now that "the is a view of the sale trans couch the facts do not with them, it is early that France given with the mine, states could be already expected a copromise? al appear to be no "Bos des, me e al appear to be no similarily of us a si n or any kind between the war i jet which your excell near coops for French exclusion of American property on a 1 the two American billion were a conditional the Merican billion with the Merican billion of the Merican billion billion of the Merican billion bill justified by your appropensions as to the "The American bills are not yet in effect, one of them is not even a law. The nature of their operation must as yet be to some extent a matter of con-jecture. The French decree has been in full force for the past nue years, its scope and results are terfectly known.

There is every reason from the history of such legislation in the past to believe that if experience shows defects or in-justice in the working of America bills, they will be modified. The French decree, in spite of argument and remon-strance, in spite even of proof that it does not do any good, has been tena ciously maintaired unchanged for nine years."

"The American bills touch all countries. The French decree singles out the United States from all other countries and pro-hibit its products alone, while the simi-lar products from the rest of the world are admitted.

"The American bills make no charges

"The American bills make no charges against the quality of the product whose importation they regulate ur tax. The French decree is based upon the indefensible charge that the American product excluded is unwholesome, though this charge has been repudiated by the French Academy of Medicine itself, and though this prohibited and unwholesome product has recently been crowned by the highest praise of your own nulby the highest praise of your own universal exposition.

"Under the circumstances I venture to suggest that the French government is not in a good position to put forward in explanation of its own action anything which the United States may now do in the impartial development of its

do in the impartial development of its known policy of protection.

"France is, and has been for nine years past, a persistent aggressor. It has absolutely prohibited the importation of an American product on indefensible charges. It still maintains this prohibition in spite of the demonstrated facts that nothing is thereby gained, either for its own consumers or its own producers, and that the only appreciable effect is to do an injustice to a century-old friend, by openly discriminating against that friend in favor of Germany, Italy and England.

"After such a record, and in advance

many, Italy and England.

"After such a record, and in advance of the slightest known movement to amend it, how can France have reason to expect, as your excellency indicates, that its evidence of good will should now be reciprocated by the United States? He who seeks justice should first do justice. Much more should that nation, which seeks friendly consideration for its merchants, refrain consideration for its merchants, refrain first from injustice to the merchants of the country appealed to, and from de-famation of that country's products."

After calling attention to the offer from Washington to modify the cus-toms bill at the request of France, in regard to appeals from cases of alleged undervaluation, and stating that this friendly action and the removal of the duty on works of art had passed un-noticed by France. Mr. Reid concludes as follows:

as follows:

"From our point of view then, the case stands thus: The Freuch government has persisted for nine years in an indefensible act, idiscriminating and especially against United State commerce, meanwhile it complains of new laws by the United States government far less severe and in no way discriminating against French commerce. Its complaints receive prompt and considerate attention, and the friendly disposition shown evokes no recognition. shown evokes no recognition.
"It cannot be believed that, with a you come to give the case full attention you can be satisfied with it. Now, as heretofore, I make my appeal to French friendliness, French justice, and may I add, to an enlightened sense of French

House and Senate Proceedings.

Kay relief bill was considered, and a vote on its passage disclosed the absence of a quorum. Mr. Baker, of New York, created some excitement by offering a resolution to revoke leaves, except those granted for illness, or granted to Roger Q. Mills and others employed in an "ed-nicational campaign." The speaker ig-nored the re-olution. The afternoon was spent in filibustering. The even-ing receion was devoted to private pen-

The senate, by a vote of 36 to 8, took up the river and harbor bill, and at the time of the adjournment had nearly completed it. The house passed the joint resolution for the relief of the Oklahoma sufferers.

Will Work During Rocess

Washivoron, Aug. 16.—A resolution was offered in the house Friday by Representative Cooper, of Indiana, providing for the appointment of a select committee of seven members to investigate and report at the next session of congress whether reductions may be made, or to what extent, in the number and salaries of officers and employes of the government, and also to what extent reductions may be made in the expenses of the various departments.

ane Latest Chicago Schem".

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—The Chicago Min-ing and Metal Exchange is to be initiated within a week or two. E. K. Neely, of the New York Stock Exchange, is the and clothing, 250,34c; braid, few loss of fine dimerion, X and XX, 250,75c; five was not fine merion, X and XX, 250,75c; five was not fine ing, 30631c; delante, 30641c.

CATILE—Good to choose butchers, $3.65

G.39; fair, $2.55c; 3.5c; common, $1.256; a step tight of A new relationship of A new York Stock Exchange, is the grant of the scheme, and has secured been a step tight of A new relationship of A new relations is to make Chicago the center of mining interests for the United States. Five hundred memberships will be sold at $100 a piwa.

Democratic Nomination. JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 16.-A Bar

low special to The Times Union says B. P. Maliery was nominated by Demo-Kinty ones for it a Common apparent why a con mutace of the concludible grats for congress.

A cream of tartar baking powder. Highest of all in leavening strength. U. S. Government report August

SECOND ON RÉCORD.

A Presenger Agent Arrested for Giving

Away Passes. CINCINNATI, Aug. 16.-D. B. Martin, general passenger agent of the Big Four, was arrested yesterday for violating the interstate commerce law by giving free transportation. The complaint was made by a representative of the commission. A party of about thirty was going from Cleveland to the National Educational association, held at San Francisco. The fare would have been $84 for the round trip.

Martin, it is claimed, gave passes, however, to three persons—L. W. Ley, superintendent of the Cleveland schools, and Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Stewart—in violation of the interstate commerce law. The warrant was sworn out beviolation of the intensiate commerce law. The warrant was sworn out before Commissioner A. J. Williams, Cleveland, and served here by F. G. Fretschmer, special agent of the commissioner. Martin was given the option of being heard before the commissioner either here or at Cleveland, or waiving examination and giving bond to appear before the grand jury at Cleveland.

His bond is fixed at $3,000 in either case. It is intimated that he gave the passes to get the party to the convention to go over his route. The committee is to go over his route. The committee is looking sharply after these cases now, although there has only been one prose-cution so far. That was in Chicago. and the defendant was fined $3,000 and Killed by an Engine. Goshen, Ind., Aug. 16.—Early this morning Leve Troyers and wife, while crossing the track at the Bristol cut is a buggy, were struck by the engine and both killed. The cut is so deep that it is impossible to see a train from either di-

Base Bali Club Disbanded.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 16.—William Barnie, nanager of the Baltimore base ball club manager of the Battimore case but the last night received a telegram from the Hartford, Conn., club which stated that that club had disbanded, This will, owing to the disbandment of the Washington club, have but six clubs in the Atlantic Association for the remainder of suitable to the occasion.

Noble delivered an eloquent address

What Does It Mean? "100 Doses One Dollar" means simply that Hood's Sarsrparilla is the most sco-nomical medicine to buy, because it gives more for the money than any other prep-aration. Each bottle contains 100 doses WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—The house discussed at some length the conference report on the Indian appropriation bill which was finally agreed to. The Mcblood purifier.

HO HOUSEROLD SHOULD HE WITHOUT

MEDICINE DISPEPSIA RESTLESSNESS-A STRICTLY VOOCTABLE PARLYLESS FAMILY MEDICE THE SELLENGE MARON, SA. PHILADELPHIA.

The majority of the ills of the he b way arise from a diseased Liver. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a bealthy Liver than any other agency on earth. SEE THAT YOU GET THE GENUINE.

. NewspaperAACHIVE®

Price ONE Dellar

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

seconded the nomination. Before the first ballot was completed.

nated by acclamation.

Senator Wilson made a brief but happy speech, accepting the nomina-

After the appointment of a congressional committee, consisting of W. M. Crawford and W. T. Reese, of Franklin: J. F. Locke and R. H. McCloud, of Madison. and H. E. Lutz and G. P. Hunsicker. of Pickaway, the convention adjuncted tieth district Republican convention consecret ballot plan, which was adopted on the motion of Mr. James R. Garfield.

Swindled Out of 892.

Swindled Out of $92.

FINDLAY, O., Aug. 16.—Untertaker William Smith was buncoed out of $92 by W. J. Sullivan, who bought a casket to inclose his alleged dead mother whom he represented had died at her residence, six miles in the country. He gave the undertaker a check on the First National bank of Fostoria for $92, the project head at the casket being $100 and peared here yesterday to secure the ex-tradition of George Brownson, who is wanted in that county for burglary and larceny. Brownson was sent to the penitentiary from Wood county in 1885 for eight years for horse stealing. He is supposed to be in this city, but can-not be found. The officer states that he Snicided With a Knifetemporary fit of insanity Mrs. Susan Thompson cut her throat with a butcher knife. She cannot live.

Attempted Train Wreckage

sulted in the almost total demolition of the engine and the death of two engineers and a tramp. Fortunately the passengers escaped with but slight cuts Awaiting Extradition.

district was harmonious, and nominated board of inquiry, and that Rear Advise P. Hangen, of Pierce county, for a third term in congress; equivalent to take charge of the Chicago and squadan election,

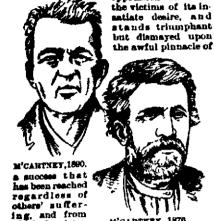

Men Who Sweep All Scruples from Their Path.

FORCING FORTUNE'S FAVORS.

One Adventurer Is New Dying in a Peni tentiary, Another Is in Custody, a Third Is a Fugitive and a Fourth Lies Slaim by

Stronger than the love of woman, Server desire of the man-enting tiger, mighter than the whirling fury of the ous portion of the human race whose reparious portion of the numan to the thirst is the thirst for gold Long ages thirst is the thirst for gold Long ages have passed since King Mulas had his wish, have passed since King Mulas had his royal and felt the yellow wine within the royal backer turn to molten metal at the touch of his charmed and cursed lips. He had attained his utmost desire; a willing god had granted his request; riches beyond the most tremendous dreams of avarice displayed themselves beneath the magic of his merest touch. Yet his life was anguish, and his death fantastic in the terror of its

So much for the old legend, the symbolical myth of grasping crualty which attains its object, grinds beneath the heel of torments.

ing, and from which the victor M'CARTNEY, 1876. stretches out an appealing hand only to learn too late that depths of misery attend the achievement of success, and that the golden prime within his grasp has crushed like an apple of Sodem and disclosed an interior made up only of the sakes of dis-redintment.

The tale is world old but ever new—this tale of man who have struggled along devious and desperate pathways to secure the vast power that wealth alone can give. Some have sought the fields of speculation and climbed to prosperity with pittless gles over the wrecked fortunes of their less lucky but equally culpable comrades. Others have toiled and saved and hoarded, starved their bodies, impoverished their minds and viewed only, glimmering through the darkness of their mental and physical squalor, the glorious yet sullen eter whose name is gold. Still others have trod the somber highway of crime, and ning to wreat from the honest, the credu lous or the unguarded the treasure which represents the accumulations of honest in-dustry. For all of these, the swindler, the thief or the miser, there is but one end. The unlawful thirst for gold means almost without exception disappointment, dis-

BARRY S. MANSFIELD.

Take, for example, the case of Pete Mc-Cartney, who is gasping out the last days of his life in the Ohio penitentiary. Probably no man in the United States has had a better general education or has made a more thorough study of the principles of engraving. He is a skillful chemist, an engraving. He is a skillful checked art competer manufacturer of the fluest of art dependent of and possesses a remarkable J. J. Holland is knowledge of the manner in which paper made. Yet for forty years this singularly tial men among gifted man has devoted all his energies education and special skill to the uttering Labor. He is of counterfeit currency. His illicit enter-prises, undertaken with a desire to accu-mulate a fortune at the expense of others, have brought him, on the whole, nothing but merited disaster, and now old, penni-less and forsaken, the famous king of American counterfeiters lies dying within the frowning walls of a prison.

He is but one, however, of the many who have defied the law and found that the law is more powerful than criminal ingenuity his younger brothers in the com radeship of crime, the other day, began his experience of the thorny road along which McCartney so long has tred. His name i Harry S. Mansfield, and until recently he was the trusted agent at Topeka, Kan., o

the Kansas and Texas Coal company Large sums of money passed through his bands, an opportunity presented itself and gold swept away the barrier of principle as a sudden summer torrent put in his pocket $6,000 of the company's money, fled to Canada and with the stolen cash started a business enterprise in Lon lon, which had just begun to prosper when detectives awooped down upon him and carried the amateur in crime back to Kanma to answer for his sins.

Like McCartney and Mansfield, Seymour Kisch might have prospered along the orlinary lines of honest enterprise. He was shook her head and tried to drag herself well known and liked in the business and social circles of Chicago, and had achieved a respectable reputation, both as a lawver and a journa ... Cheuts willingly intrust ed him with their causes, and the news-papers received his contributions with favor A few years of steady work and in-telligent application would have made him a rich man, but he preferred to reach affluence by the short cut of fraud. As an attorney he swindled widows and orphana as a newspaper man be abused the confi dence of his associates, and as an acquaint ance he imposed upon the credulity of those who trusted him. Now, with his pockets full of ill gotten wealth, he is a fugitive from justice.

The cases cited above are sorrowful to contemplate, but probably none of the three can equal in horror of detail that of the Kansas City miser, Peter Leffer. This miserable old man had lived out the allotted tale of threescore and ten years. His early history is obscure, but for the last quarter of a century he had kept a small tore on North Third street. He dwelt alone in a miserable hovel. Outside of business hours he shunned his fellow man and he was regarded by his neighbors as a poor unfortunate whose scanty income from trade brought him the bare necessi ies of life. But the outcome shows that he like the others was a victim of the aw ful and relentless thirst for gold. He had toiled and saved, and spared himself in no direction that he might add to his store of shining metal. At the age of 70, alone friendless, unattended, he first saw the collowness of his ilfe's ambition, and locking up his little shop sought the filthy back room in which he had spent so many solitary nights and ended his dreary life with a shot from a revolver.

So meager was his patronage that days passed before the poor wretch's tragic end was known. When found he sat dead in a chair. A frightful hole marked the mid-dle of his forehead. He was maked above the waist. His false teeth, says The Kansas City Times, protruded several inches from the mouth. The nose had rotted and sunk into the skull, leaving only a deep ndentation, and maggets were worming themselves in and out of the spertures in his face. He was thought to be a pauper. but in the cellar was found a bag of gold pieces. In a drawer lay a bank book show ing a strge sum to his credit, and notes given by responsible parties for hundreds of dollars. The till also contained a handsome sum of money.

PETER LEFLER.

In addition to these was found a will by the provisions of which small fortunes were left to five persons living in Baden, Germany, and two other people remient in Kansas City. The old man directed that after the payment of these bequests and a magnificent disbursement for his funeral the residue of his estate should be turned over to the Young Men's Christian association of Kausas City, with the exception of his stock of goods, which he bequeathed to an old cripple named William Taylor.

Viewed in all its aspects can it be said that there is one redeeming feature to brighten the somber history of the world old inordinate greed for gold? FRED. C. DATTON

The Sensational Strike on the Central.

"Holland is responsible for it."
So said Vice President Webb, of the New York Central radroad, the other day, in speaking of the strike just then begun on the great transports. tion line over which he exercises control during the absence in Europe of Presi-

regarded as one of the most influen the Knights of chairman of the national legislation committee and a member of the general executive board By trade he is a shoe

J J HOLIAND maker. He left the bench to enter the northern army during the civil war. At the close of the con test he settled in Florida, and continued in business there as a merchant until he became actively identified with the Knights of labor. He is a man of large physique and possesses a strikingly determined cast of countenance.

A Strange Anonymous Letter. Claude Rosaire lived with a French Can adian family in southern Michigan until he was 23 years old and believed himself a son. In a moment of anger three years ago his supposed father declared that Claude was an illegitimate son. This so burt the young man that he ran away to Chicago. He has not seen the family since. The other day he received an anonymous letter stating that his grand onymous letter stating that his gried mother was the Duchesse de Saint Villaize, of Normandie, who fled from a cruel husband to America with her only child This child eventually married a Confed erate soldier, Claude being born to them a year or two afterward. Another women the writer of the letter loved the his band, and in her anger stole the child The father, in despair over the loss, com mitted suicide, the mother has disappear ed. Inclosed in the anonymous letter to Claude was the certificate of his father's and mother's marriage.

Some hosiness men in Checago have un dertaken the erection of one of the largest peril at the same time received assistance buildings in the world. It is to be liably and escaped. Mr. and Mrs. Dickerson have buildings in the world. It is to be 130 by down before its resistless fury the 350 feet in size and sixteen stor es tall. Its frail obstruction of the films; dam. He construction will cost over $3,000,000

SHOT HIS SWEETHEART. Louisville of a Sen-

"Kirs me, Annie, just once before we So spoke blood stained Peter McCrory as he leaned over the prostrate form of Ant

Staken. But the terribly wounded girl sational Nature.

PETER M'CRORY. ANNIE STAKEN. away from the man who had just attempted murder and suicide Then the police came In, and after sending Annie to the hospital took Peter to juil.

In its details the tragedy is one of the most sensational that has startled the city of Louisville for some time. Both the principals were young people, and some months ago became cogaged. The girl recalled her promise, and the man swore that she should marry no one else. The other evening he called at her house, and almost without warning drew a pistol began to fire. The first ball entered Miss Staken's face an inch below the right eye, plowing its way through the head and coming out behind the ear.

Seeing that the result was not immediate death McCrory fired a second time, but the bullet flew wide and buried itself in the opposite wall. The assassin then turned the pistol on himself. One ball struck the skull, but glanced off, leaving only a scalp wound. Another grazed the teeth and tore off the upper lip. When the neighbors and officers broke in they found the room literally slippery with blood.

Miss Staken is 19 years old and quite McCrory is 24. Speaking of the affair while his wounds were being dressed he said:
"Annie ought to have loved me, but she did not. She once promised to be my wife, and when she backed down I made up my mind that she should never be any one cise's When I kept away from her I did not think I loved her, but the moment I came in her presence I lost my senses. She was so beau tiful that I could not stand seeing any one else in the place that was mine. If she gets well I will kill myself, and if she dies ! suppose I will be hanged. It makes no dif-ference to me, but if she gets well I hope that since her beauty will be gone Dula-ney (a rival) will not marry her."

A FATAL ENCOUNTER.

Tragic Result of the Iron Molders' Strike at San Francisco.

The iron molders' strikent San Francisco adminated the other evening in a tragedy. When the trouble between manufactur ers and employes began some time ago position with the City Iron works. He rethe appeals of the finally, it is said, threatened with violence. At any rate, while riding in a culle car on Powell street he got into an altercation named Henry A.

dying man the latter made oath as fol-

"Realizing that I am about to die I make this my dying statement. My name is Henry A. Sievert. I got on the car, and he (naming Rideout) began to shake his pistol in his pocket. I said nothing to him. He put on a terrible look. He shot through his coat. I said, 'Don't shoot.' I scuffled with him to prevent his shooting. I was never acquainted with him. I knew him have nothing more to say. That is the man that shot me; I am positive that is the man. I think his name is Rideout, or

The Beauty Contest at Vienna. Fair ficed young women who wish a free trip to Europe now have the opportunity of their lives. An international beauty conest is to be held at Vienna, the capital of Austria, and the following directions are sent out for the information of those desir ing to compete: All competitors must send photographs, with their addresses, to the committee Those was are admitted must attend in exeming dress or costumes repre sentative of the country from which they come. The committee states that should the competitors desire it traveling expenses and the cost of living here for five lays will be paid out of the funds at the disposal of the managers Each lady who is in the competition w. Il receive a souvenir of the occasion. The total sum to be awarded to the winner is $1 300.

Two Brothers Drowned. He went to his brother's rescue and both

Such in brief is the sad story of Dean and Fields Dickerson, two bright lads, aged 11 and 8 years respectively. They were the sons of F. B. Dickerson, a wealthy resident of Detroit, and the other after noon went swimming in the shallow waters of the back bay, a short distance from the Star Island house, at the St. Clair flats

A stiff breeze prevailed and there was : choppy sea. The water swept Fields be youd his depth. Deane bravely went to

DEANS AND FIFLDS D'S REDSON he and but we hout avail and after stringgling for some moments both went slown. The leater were recovered soon afterward. but one surviving child, a daughter, 4

The Genuine Experience of a Western Mountaineer

HE MEETS A RUSSIAN EXILE.

And the Two Truck a Monster Beau Through the Redwood Forests of Sonome-Brain Succumbs to Well Directarl Shota...The Bussian Venishes. [Copyright by American Press Association.]

The California grizzlies are disappearing from even the deepest ravines. Thousands of them have been poisoned by the catcle men whose stock they destroy; but stories of the time when they were lords of the forest linger in every district. Every county has its tradition of some giant bear Every region has stories of torn and alain hunters who meddled too rashly with the ways of the terrible grizzly.

One of the noted old hunters, ex-Senator Thomas N. Wand, of San Francisco, in a ecent interview told me of his adventures some twenty years ago.

"For several successive years." he says.

THE MONSTER CRIZZLY.

and fishing in the mountain fastnesses of northern Sonoma. My companions were six or eight mountain ranchers who were thoroughly familiar with the woods and were good shots.

"Our outfit was very simple-pack animais, horses to ride, a few camp utensils and the necessaries of existence. After three or four weeks in the wild and beauti ful wilderness, where we never saw any other human being, we returned refreshed to bow again to the yoke of civilization and white shirts. "Deer was so abundant that it was easy

I am about to describe. "One afternoon we camped by a fine spring, in a cool mountain valley heavily oded with oak and pine. Just before nightfall we saw a man, mounted on one horse and leading another, approaching us. Suddenly the 'old man' of our party said: Buddenly the 'old man' of our party said:

'Great Scott! It's Grizzly Bill, coming to camp in the valley! Who is he?' we exclaimed.

"He is the desperado of this part of the coast range. The story goes that he is seen it all times of the year ranging from the mouth of the Russian river 200 miles north into Klamath.'
"'Well,' said one, 'we are not afraid of any single man, even if he is the "terror of the wilderness." Sounds like a dime novel, doesn't it? Really I think all there a about it is that some old fellow has lost his interest in life.' "The stranger unpacked his horse, threw nair of blankets on the ground, arrange a few cooking utensils against a tree, gath-ered together some dry brush, lit a fire and began to prepare his meal. His camp was hardly a hundred yards from ours, but nothing in his manner told that he had seen us or knew of our presence. "The reputation he bore interested me, and I made up my mind to 'prospect' his camp after he had had an opportunity to eat his supper and rest awhite.

and knew where he worked. I Then I sauntered across the space between our camps. He did not appear to notice me until I was within a few yards. Suddenly he sprang up and said earnestly: 'Stop! Who are you, sir, and what do you want?'

"He was a man of more than six feet in height, carrying himself with military erectness. His dress was of the old fashioned 'buckskins' so rarely seen in these days, even in the remote mountains. A knife and a revolver hung from his leathern belt. His hair and beard were blonde, and so long and tangled that his face was nearly hilden. He wore a dark cap, from under which gleamed the largest and keen-est pair of dark blue eyes that I have ever seen. Altogether he was a wild and striking floure and I could not belp admiring his lionlike strength.

" 'I am no one in particular, only a mat on a vacation, with ranch boys for my comrades. This is our first camp in this region, and I thought you could direct us to some of the best hunting districts. "He looked at me keenly, and then gave a growl of assent. 'You are cool. I must say. No other person, except my own men who came with me to California, has ever spoken pleasantly to me since I began to wander through these mountains.

"We sat down and began to talk, while he lit his pipe and puffed it in long, slow, comfortable whilfs. When I left he rose and walked back with me to our camp. The pext morning Grizzly Bill said that he was willing to become a member of our party for the rest of the campaign.

"For two weeks we were together almost constantly. I found him an educated gentleman who had seen much of the world and was crammed full of knowledge of men and affairs up to about three years before, at which time he seemed to have dropped out of everything. Once or twice we met a man during our wanderingsman on horseback, in hunter's clothes, who stopped and talked with my companion in a language which I had never heard before, but which I thought must be have shown it in some way, for Grazly Bill one day looked at me with severity my friends' I have two in this country, i ome back for another bunt' and they are gentlemen of rank. They bring me my supplies and letter-you is a perfect grant."

"Well, yes, I said, 'I do want to kill a grizzly, and a measurably respectable one, o, but I don't know that he has got to be as infernal; large as all that. I believe a medium sused one would do about as well after I have a chance to tell the story in the valley."

"One day Grizzly Bill disappeared, and we staid in camp. Toward night he came back and said to me: 'I have the fellow; know just the canyon he sleeps in, and the patch of berries and scrub he will probably hunt for his breakfast. Get your gun in perfect order. We will take John Rogers at daybreak and try our fortune.'

"At the appointed time the three of us rose quietly, took a bite of venison and followed in single file through the narrow winding paths, Grizzly Bill shead as a We had traveled about a mile hen Bill raised his hand and halted. "He motioned us forward, and pointed across a more open glade, perhapa 150 yards wide. There was the most terrible creat ure I ever saw before or since. The glads was thickly set with scrub oaks, manzanitas and other small growths four or five feet high, and tangled with vines of all sorts. It was totally impassable to a man. The almost imperceptible breeze was in our favor. "The weapon I carried at that time was a well tried Sharpe's breechloading rifle. with ounce bullets. I was an excellent shot and felt ready to do my best. But look very serious to a man with relatives. day:

"I ain't much now. Been fireman to
"I ain't much now. Been fireman to "I spent my autumn vacation in hunting ries and wheeling around from one bush to another. With one great paw he bent a bush over, and with the other raked the fruit into his enormous mouth, and even in that posture the old king of the bears looked twice as tall as a man.
"Our leader now whispered to me to when I found that I could not get my gun fairly against my shoulder. Looking around I saw my companions leaning against the trees laughing, 'not loud, but deep.'

"Only the buck ague,' said Rogers.

"Take it easy.' In a few minutes I found that my nerves had steadied and grown safe to trust again.
"'If I am killed,' said Grizzly Bill to us, take my papers and valuables and give them to my friend, who will be along in a few days. hoop flew up and broke my nose. Fell in "This was serious talk, and it made us think again of what we knew about griz-zlies. When hit they stop and bite at the zlies. wound, then rush in the direction of the shot. The bear in view was lean, and evidently as swift as a greyhound. In that thick undergrowth we must lay him out cold or be at his mercy.

"I was to have the first shot and to aim at the heart. When he turns broadside to you, our leader said, 'let him have it just under the shoulder blade. Give him a second shot in the roof of the mouth well back, as he comes for you. If that don't stop him Rogers will try for his eyes "Deer was so abundant that it was easy to get all we wanted for food. As for bear, there were many cinnamon and black, and grizzlies, too, were plentiful. In fact, I as far as you can, and fall flat in the was "in at the death" of two or three grizbushes, loading, of course, as you may be of some use afterward. I'll stand the last "A moment later we had taken our places and were watching the great, grim beast turn about on his haunches, finishing his breakfast. Almost immediately the point of the shoulder blade showed with the sunlight full upon the streak of light colored fur. Then I fired, and in stantly heard a great growl, groan or howl My companions stood at my side with their guns ready. The bear tore into the thick bushes, making a rush for his enemies, but neither saw nor smelt us, so he stopped in the middle of the glade and be-gan to wreak his giant rage on the bushes. For a moment he made a remarkable dis-play of his grand but wasted strength, izing dwarf oaks and shrubs that a yoke of oxen could hardly have torn loose and flinging them up in the air, until he had actually cleared a space like a circus ring. Suddenly he stopped and lay down.

"Grizzly Bill broke silence: 'I guess you've got him. Step a little nearer and give him another at the base of the ear.'

"I did so, and the great grizzly leaped up clear from the ground and fell dead at my feet. Rogers and Grizzly Bill ran up. "Rogers was the first to break the silence. 'You are a lucky dog,' he said quietly. 'Don't ever try it again in such as this. Your first shot went through the heart, or he would have found us and given us a close run to the finish.

"Bath my shots and the great growl or yell of the wounded bear had been heard in camp, and before long the boys came un to find out,' as they said, 'which side was whipped. We took hold and skinned the hear and sent back to camp for an old pack horse we had-an animal who was not afraid of anything. We finally got the hide off and put it on our mustang, with the hair inside. It covered him all over except his head and dragged on the ground on each side and behind, and, all in all, made up a frightful object, especially when "When we emerged from the forest into the little valley or glade where our aninals were lazily and sleepily browsing one look on their part was sufficient. The stampede it was ever my fortune to behold took piace the next minute. The frightened hor-es and mules ran in every direction, and two men of our party were occupied for nearly two days in recovering them from the "We spent several days in shooting quail, grouse and deer; then we broke up camp and started for the valley Grizzly Bill accompanied us till we stood on the said with much feeling: Good by, my friend. Your companionship has given use "This aroused my curiosity, and I must much pleasure. I may be called back to my own country and then you was never see me again. But perhaps, and indeed and then said: 'You wish to know about most probably, I shall be here when you "A year later, with the same party I was again exploring the wildernesses of Sector few days later my new friend said ma and Humboldt. We visited our said You have an ambition to kill a grizzly. I camps, but found no trace of fer at y 15 .. am now looking for the largest one in the 'or his friends. Indeed from what we af region. When we get on the trail of this terward heard they had andderly disay king of the grizzlies I will show you how peared and left no trail behind them. Who to kill him. The one I have picked out for the exiles were is therefore likely to remain forever unknown CHARLES HOWARD SHIYS

WEALTH WORKED A CHANGE. "Crate Ward" Is Now Engure as Mr.

Frank Worth. They called him "Crasy Ward" and tolrantly smiled at his whims. Now they speak of him as Mr. Frank Worth, and say that while eccentric he is really a man of large intelligence and an extremely genial companion.

These two divergent opinions of the peo ple of St. Louis can be quickly accounted "Crazy Ward" was a crackbrained vagrant who hung about the engine houses and ran to firm. Mr. Frank Worth is a gentleman who recently inherited property at New Orleans of the value of

Ward or Worth-the latter is the man's real name-was born at sea something over half a century ago. He lived at New Orleans until been a resident of ture of the skull tled his wits, and he passed his time until his recent acin "running with

FRANK WORTH. Speaking of his career he said the other long, but I'm not dead yet. Been all cut up and mashed, you know, at fires. Was drinking tea with old man Henry Shaw when Southern took fire. Ran down and saved New York fireman. Threw a rope to the sixth story, me and Phelim O'Toole did. Gave Phelim $500, I am told. I saved steady my nerves and see if I could take Kate Clarton, the actress, and she offered aim. Imagine my shame and consternation me diamonds. I told her, was not saving lives for diamonds, Had my face burned off there. Wall of Froebel's burned off there. fell on me too. Fell in a bole at Cass avenue fire. Nearly drowned. Lumber pile fell on me in Bremen and Dutch Henry pulled me out. Froze to the ground at St. Nicholas fire and Chief Sexton gave me his clothes. Asked a barkeeper for a drink that day. He wouldn't give it to me. He died the next day. Got hit with lilinois.

a brick at a Main street fire and knocked through a door. Oh yes. Stepped on a big iron hoop at another Main street fire

> Washington arenue. The ladies saved my life." SUICIDE OF A FAMILY.

A Horror That Recently Shocked the French Capital. The latest horror that has forced itself to the surface to disturb the gay serenity of smiling Paris is the suicide of the Hyam family, who closed all the air vents of their miserable little apartment, put some char coal on the brazier and calmly lay down in each other's arms to await death by suffo cation. They had no work, no money, no resources. They were starving, and they preferred painless suicide to the lingering

SEVEN DEAD, ONE DYING. misery of prappeasable hunger. To pro last article on which the monte de piete

When a commissary of police broke oper the door he found the father and six children dead. Some signs of life were de tected in the mother's frame, and after strenuous efforts she was brought back from the brink of the grave. Now that the woman has no family to share good fortune with her she is tasting the sweets of comparative comfort, for a subscription started in her behalf immediately after the facts became public has netted a handsome sum, sufficient indeed to keep her from want during the remainder of her sorrow

A New Use for the Phonograph.

The inhabitants of Mexico have discovered a new use for the phonograph. It is proposed to place these instruments in the principal postoffices of the republic for the benefit of the illiterate. Citizens who can-not read or write will talk into the receiver, and when the cylinder reaches its destination their messages will be repeated to their correspondents from another ma-chine. The great question, of course, is: Will it be necessary for a postman to be present when the phonograph is unburdening its soul? If so, it is obvious that the new service will not be equally suitable for all communications. To be told in the presence of a comparative stranger that the only girl you ever loved finds that her feelings toward you have undergone change, or even that, unless your tailor's little account is immediately

This is the record of James Gaynor's last twenty-four hours on earth Thomas Hanley, both residents of Cincinnati, met on friendly terms and took a social glass. Then they had another and another and another. They became so intoxicated that the police warned street, and they therefore decided to finish the de bauch at Hanley's rooms. They were joined in the oray by another man and woman While the quartet was crazed by excess Hauler threw Garnor down stairs. He lay at the bottom of the steps most my and shreking with pain until an and matter conveyed him to the hespital, where he died from spinal injury soon where he died from spinal injury soon afterward. Hanley and his companions were arrested and held to answer on a No. 32 Source. So. 33 Source. So. 35 Source. So. 35 Source. So. 35 Source. So

JAMES GATNOR.

The gambling houses of Saratoga seem to have made some big losses during the season. Among the heavy winners is Abe City, who is "ahead of the game" over $10,-

We Can and De

We Can and De
Guarantee Dr. Ackers's Blood Elixir, for it has been fully demonstrated to the people of this country that it is superior to all other preparations for blood diseases. It is a positive cure for syphilitic poisoning, ulcers, cruptions and pimples. It purifies the whole system and thoroughly builds up the constitution. Sold by H. C. Hoberman & Co. and W. B. Foye.

A Lady in South Carolina Writes: My labor was shorter and less painful than on two former occasion; physicians astonished; I thank you for "Mothers Friend" It is is worth its weight in gold. Address The Bradfield Reg. Co., Atlanta, Ga., for particulars. Sold by H. C. Haberman & Co.

"The census enumerator is gone."

Yes; his business is over. "What next?"

"The mosquito with his little bill."-Boston Courier

No medicine in the world is in better re-No meanths in the world is in better re-pute or more widely known than Ayer's Sarsupartila. As a safe and certain rem-edy for all manner of blood disorders, leading physicians and druggists everywhere mend it in preference to any other

ROUGH ON TOOTHACHE. 15c. At Druggists. ROUGH ON CORNS. Hard or soft corns. 15c.

Ready for Graduation.

Professor (to class in horology)-If a cheap watch were brought you to be repaired how would you begin?

Bright Student—By asking the owner to pay in advance. - Jewelers' Weekly.

Chills and Fever. Malaria. "Many cases of fever and ague, dumb ague and congestive chills were promptly arrested and entirely banished by the use of Simmons Liver Regulator. You don't say half enough in regard to the efficacy of this valuable medicine in cases of ague, intermittent fevers, etc. Every case baseen arrested immediately. I was a sufferer for years with the liver disease, and only found relief by using the Regulator."—ROBERT J. WEEKS, Batavia, Kane Co., Illinois.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people mi and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache. heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, " all gooe" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the howels, are

After symptoms. Dyspepsia does Eating not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stor efficiently. It tones the scommon and organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symp-Headache toms removes the sympa-Headache thetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind. "I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat Heartdistressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a SOUP mom with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsa-Stomach rilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfi

GEORGE A. PAGE, Watertown, Mass. Hood's Sarsaparilla Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell. Mass. 100 Doses One Dollar

the craving I had previously experienced."

CAUTION W. L. Douglas Shore and bar his name and price stamped on bottom $2.00 GENTLE EN

.. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE GENTLEMEN. Fine Calf and Laced Waterproof Grain

The excellence and wearing qualities of this shot cannot be better shown than by the strong endorse-ments of its thousands of constant wearers. little account is immediately settled, the matter will be placed in the hands of a lawyer, is a contingency that cannot be faced without embarrassment.

Terrible Ending of a Debauch.

A spree; a broken spine; death at a hospital.

This is the record of James Gaynor's last.

have been most favorably received since introduced and the recent improvements make them superior to any shoes sold at these prices. Ask your bealer, and if he cannot supply you send direct to factory enclosing advertised price, or se direct to factory enclosing several postsi for order bianks.

W. L. DOUGLAS. Brockton. Massie

J. E. RHOADS.

Local Time Card.

The Eric can not afford to pay for having its time card printed, hence it is omitted. BIG FOUR. (In effect on and after May 19, 1890.)

NEWSPAPERHACHIVE®.

ERIE.

C. AND A

C.ANU A

WEST.

9 30 a. m. No. 8 11 20 p. 1.

12 25 p. m. No. 2 700 p. m.

11 20 p. m. No. 12 430 acm

11 20 p. m. No. 6 11 340 acm NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

No Bank in Life Has a Monepoly of Loveliness-A Dancor and a Duchous

Alike Superb in Form and Feature. Some Queenly Faces.

Venus is the accepted type of a perfect weman she embodies symmetry, smoothnes, form, delicacy in perfection

It is easy for the fairest to fall short of that ideal in bodily proportion, but faces more brautiful smile under the skies of more bradenar same under the sates of many lands. The coloring, variety and ex-pression which her marble features necessarily lack are found wherever there is a lovely, "God blessed," living face.

Here are a few chosen almost at random from a heap of distracting photographs where each one seemed lovelier than its nelghbor. As an ideal American beauty Mrs. Ferdinand Yanaga, formerly Mabel Wright, is a perfect example. She is slender, graceful, purely blonde, with a dark shading of brows and lashes, and is delicately colored like a flower. She possesses, too, the mo-bility of expression, the irresistible sparkle which adds such a charm to the faces of

MLLE. THEO.

American women, even where the features are insignificant. Her history has a piquancy showing that even in money wor shiping, commercial New York a beautiful face may sometimes prove a passport to a fortune.

She was the daughter of an artist in comfortable circumstances, but outside the pale of society, when a rich, aristocratic young man crossed her path and promptly fell in love with her. He managed to get her an invitation to some prominent, exclusive social event among the "Four Hundred," and under the chaperonage of a society leader. Her beauty did the rest. The obliging young man was exiled to Europe by his parents to forget the girl whose only fortune was her face, but she became the fashion. No marshaling of the social world in town, at Newport or Tuxedo was complete without this rose of a girl. Last fall she married dinand Yanaga, the brother of the Duchess of Manchester, better known by her former title of Lady Man deville, and is now abroad.

A really beautiful French woman is a ranty. One writer says, "The women of

THE DUCHESS OF LEINSTER.

France are the ugliest in the world." But It is generally conceded that what they lack in regularity of feature and purity of complexion is atoned by the grace, the esprit, the eloquence of expression which make them the most dangerous coquettes under the sun. Mile. Thee may be taken as a typical Parisienne. Her success in opera bouffe has been enormous. The Mexicans went wild over her and crowned her with a chaplet of gold laurel leaves. In New York she never tripped down to the footlights without hearing the plaudits of a crowded house the won all hearts—and why Not by her singing, for Theo has scarcely more voice than a peacock, but by the winsome conjectry of her French face.

She smiles almost continually, but it is not a stereotyped grin like the usual semblance of simulated mirth. It is change-ful, flashing, full of diablerie, insinuating, confidential, a smile which has cajoled the gold into Theo's greedy little hands in the most wonderful way.

"I saw many beautiful women in Eng-al, and many blue eyed, pink cheeked, vigorous, tennis playing girls," said Chaun-My Depew last summer on his return than be from abroad, "but flower of them all, the lower.

BOTH FAIR AND FAMOUS most lovely par excellence is the young Duchess of Leinster. She stands alone." Tall, slender, stately, calm, with per-actly chiseled features, she is an aristo testive English beauty from crown to toe.
Lady Chara Vere de Vere could not have held her head more perfectly poised. The Duchess of Leinster would look a duchess > her marriage with Lord Kildare, who afterward succeeded to the title of the Duke of Leinster, she was the beauty of a couple of London seasons. So confident was she of her charm, however, that her queenly carriage, the haughty curve of her lips, the proud, critical gaze of her eyes won her the nickname of "Lady Admire-Me Duncoube" among the gilded youths, who were nevertheless her devoted fol-lowers. She is a daughter of the Earl of Faversham, and is 25 years of age, in the zenith of her beauty. Her charity is untiring. She is a sort of patron saint to bundreds of working girls she has befriended in the most sympathetic, womanly Carmencita is the idea of the hour at New York. She made her way to celebrity and what promises to be fortune by the amezing, tortuous shiverings of her spine. She is the queen of a concert hall which her ronderful dancing has transformed into a fashionable resort for the time being, and she dances at private parties for society, at a magnificent cost to them. The size of her little foot, her untamed grace, the ec stacy of motion, the language of her languishing dark eyes have inspired news paper paragraphs many a time and oft since she first shivered and swayed before astonished New Yorkers on the stage at

CARMENCITA.

Never since the great Taglioni fired Thackeray's heart has there been such a dancer. Not only feet and toes, but every inch of her body becomes instinct with life. With arms swaying above her head like a Nautch dancer's, with fluttering fingers and eyes mirroring every phase of her intoxicating motion she becomes a sprite instead of an every day young

So recently has she left her native tow of Malaga that English is still almost an unknown tongue to her. Her face is distinctly Spanish. It is not in perfect proportion, but she may be called a beauty nevertheless by right of her wonderful eyes, teeth, smile, the warm, dusky tints of her seting skin, her agile, shapely figure and above all her inimitable grace which remains a vivid memory with every one

White and other tourists, can boast of more beautiful women than any other city in the world. They have the smallest wrists and ankles, the most admirably turned necks, and when they dance: No sun upon an Easter day Is half so fair a sight.

Here is a picture of a beautiful Viennes Standing, sitting, leaning: sad, smiling or simply meditative; arrayed in a variety of chic costumes; smoking a cigarette, peep-ing over a mask, etc., she has challenged comparison with every fresh rival. A few years since she won a $5,000 prize at a beau-ty contest. Then she was simply Miss Mertens, "to fortune and to fame unknown. After that she became a fixed star in the theatrical firmament, and is now an actress at the Eden theatre. in Paris.

She is a distracting beauty, perhaps the most beautiful woman in Europe. Her skin shows the smooth, dead white of the nagnolia blossom, a tint seen to perfec tion among the Austro-Hungarians. An oriental languor softens her large, white lidded eyes. She is tall, of generous build and very graceful. This photograph of Marie Bashkirtseff

MARIE BASHKIRTSEFF. before she died. She was beautiful, as she so frankly tells us in the wonderful journal she left behind. But she was more

HOWA'S SOAL PALACE

A Structure Wherein a Nevel Exhibiti Corn and culture have for a long time been staple products in lows. Having become foremost in the production of the former, and leading the union in the least per cent. of alleteracy, lows is now about if selling muslin over a counter.

As Lady Hermione Duncombe, before to take a step in another direction and exhibit to the states her resources for "light, heat and power"—in a word, her vast store of bituminous product. The palace idea just now is the prevalent one, and so while her corn palace has been built in the region of her great corn belt, and her blue grass palace located in the center of her best meadows, it is natural that Ottumwa being in the center of the coal fields, should be chosen as the site for her coal palace. unique and massive structure which has been in process of construction for some time and now nears completion. Primarily the coal palace will represent the ten counties adjacent to it so productive of cheap fuel. Secondarily, but of no less importance, it will represent the best of the numerous manufactories of the Hawkeye state, for it is to be "The Iowa Coal Palace and Industrial Exhibit." The coal region and industrial extinct. The total region of Iowa is not extensively mentioned in the geographies, perhaps, and yet these ten counties, Wapello, Marion, Monroe, Appanoose, Davis, Keokuk, Mahaska, Lucus, Jefferson and Van Buren, last year mined over three and one-half million tons of coal, employed in the mines nearly eight thousand men and paid for labor alone more than a million and a half dollars. It is not so startling then, that lowa, so well known as an agricultural state, can build a palace of coal taken from her own borders and thus prove to the sisterhood her won-derful variety of resources.

REARED IN HONOR OF KING COAL

The palace is an imposing structure 290 feet in length and 130 feet in width, the main tower being 200 feet in height. The architecture is a compromise between the gothic and the Byzantine. The palace will be two stories in height, the first being about 20 feet to the ceiling, the other reach ing to the top of the structure, varying from 40 to 60 feet. The main entrance is on Main street, through the grand arches in the tower to the right, whose summit is near the grand tower. That tower is 36 feet wide and of the same proportions as the one to the left, which faces a unique and beautiful sunken garden on Washington street. The rear end is beautified by twin semi-circular turrets, one of which can be seen at the extreme right. A couple of similar towers somewhat more elongated, jut out from he other side toward the opposite or Washington end of the palace, while a similar tower to that first described, forming the main street entrance, symmetrizes the palace on the opposite side. In this tower is the stage 30x36, and the main hall with the balconies ascending direct from the stage will give the building an auditorium with a seating capacity of from 4,000 to 6,000. On either side of the main room or nave of the building are the spaces above and below for the exhibits of the nine surrounding counties and from abroad. The exhibition opens Sept. 16 and close

An Apostle of Christian Communism Rev. Adin Ballon, the venerable pastor emeritus of Hopedale parish, who died at Milford, Mass., the other day, was in many respects a remarkable man. He was born at 12, and became a minister at 18. He soon lost standing because of his rejection of the doctrine of eternal punishment and Hopedale the "Community," an attempt to practically exemplify Christian com-munism, literally practicing the Ten Commaniments. This continued with vary-ing success, Mr. Ballon being spiritual leader until 1856, when joint property own ership was abandoned, the effects sold and proceeds divided. The "Christian parish" was organized with Mr. Ballou as pastor, which relation he held until April 23, 1880, when, on his 77th birthday, he relinquished active parish work to younger hands. His home was the Gretna Green of hun dreds of lovers. His life work included officiating at 2,631 funerals, 2,398 marriages, omerating at 2,051 timerats, 2,500 than larges, 1,500 christenings, writing nearly 500 volumes of various kinds and purposes, delivering nearly 8,500 sermons and addresses on a multitude of religious and secular subjects. He became a Master Mason in Charity lodge A. F. A. M., Milford, 1824; a Royal Arch Mason in Mt. Lebanon chapter, Milford, 1825; knighted in Worcester county commandery 1825, worshipful master of Charity lodge in 1826, an honorary member of Milford commandery K. T. 1860, and of Montgomery lodge, Milford, in

The Production of Slate,

The total value of all slate produced in the United States in 1889, as shown by the census returns, is $3,444,863. Of this amount $2,775, 271 is the value of 828,990 squares of roofing slate and $669,592 is the value of al .te for all other purposes besides roofing.

As compared with the statements of the tenth census report of 1880 on stone, the roofing slate product of 1880 is nearly twice as great in number of squares and in value. A consideration of the slate used for purposes other than roofing appears to have been omitted from the tenth census report.
The total value of all slate produced in 1999 is more than twice as great as that considered in the tenth census.

An Old Man's Penmanship.

A queer hobby is that of Rila Kittredge, of Belfast, Me. He desires to be known as the "champion microscopic writer of the world, and has just finished writing President Harrison's last message, containing 10,000 words, on a postal card. He was twenty days at the job. Mr. Kittredge used nothing but common spectacles to aid his sight. He is 79 years old, and, considering his age, his penmanship is marvelous.

The Ginger Did Him No Good.

A farmer of Aroostook county, Me while suffering from the blues the other day drank three bottles of Jamaica ginger. than beautiful, for her face is marked by Then he went to sleep in a barn, and a cow power.

RVELYR MALCOLM. Is glown on him and broke two ribs.

SUMMERING IN ARCADIA

A HAMLET IN THE STATE OF NO-WHERE AND COUNTY OF NOD.

The Village Is a Century Old, but Knows Neither Railway Nor Tourists-Trout in the Streams and Bear on the Hillia

The village is over a century old. It drowers in price and antiquity a mile and a half from the railway, str.t.hing the while its comfortable length along the high and verdured banks that comine the turbulent power of a many filled river. A rope ferry transfers the casual passenger from shore to shore of the brawling stream that some to exult at quitting the fountains of its youth, but far to the south grows staider as it widens to the broad amplitude of a great waterway of commerce.

The village lies in a valley, with chains of hills to the north, the east and the west -hills that ages ago were mountains, but that in course of time and by reason of elemental warfare have grown smaller, are less aggressive of outline, and display in quaint curves and curious angles the wriu-kled charm of years. Forests cover them from base to summit, and along their alti tudes the fog clouds of early dawn wander like restles giants seeking for repose. Of ssionally the granite steeps are shaken by unexpected earthquakes that growl chal-lenge to the thunderous lightnings as they hurl their mysterious might upon the sul-len peaks, but generally, for the sun shines much, no sound disturbs the silent glory of the scene save the grateful rustle of the summer breeze.

LEAVE ORDERS AT THE POSTOFFICE.

These hills are the outer sentinels to a long range that trends far northward, and at the same time they are the protectors of the little hamlet at their base, guarding it against the fury of the winter tempest and the wrath of summer heat that render unendurable less favored localities. So warded and so situated the denizens of the beautiful valley live on from year to year The village store keeper dies at a good old age, and his son, who has "clerked it" for him and married the village belle meanwhile, succeeds to the stock of dried apples, salt pork and scythe blades. The farmer "down on the middle road" goes the way of all fiesh, and his eldest boy "shines up" to the next neighbor's buxom daughter, furbishes the old homestead a bit when she takes her place as its mistress, and then yokes his oxen and continues placidly the labors of seed time and harvest and having.

They know little of their advantages these lazily industrious people in whom, perhaps, familiarity has bred contempt. At any rate they call the golden rod that grows in luxuriant abundance a "durned weed," and let the wild strawberries, raspperries, blueberries and blackberries that overrun the mountain sides and meadow ripen and rot by the ton. They have small use for the glorious streams near by in which the brook trout lurk. It takes too long too "ketch a mess."

So, if "killin' time" has not arrived and the supply of fresh meat is scant, the young in 1803, had "religious experiences" at 11 men make up a "bullheadin' party" and years of age, joined the Church of Christ seek some deep river pool or muddy pond where the slimy prey awaits them, eager to swallow the clumsily concealed hook that penetrates their lair. Black bear went over to the Universalists. His controversial writings created a schism, and in the days when the red man ruled the land, and rarely come to grief unless they bring down vengeance on their heads by raiding a cattle pen or sheep fold. Deer gaze curiously at the infrequent visitor to their haunts, and then resume their browsing unscared. Indeed, man and beast seem to dwell together with an arcadian concord of semi-somnolent satisfaction. Where is this quaint paradise of repose this enchanted valley within whose limits 'tis "always afternoon?" In the state of Nowhere and the county of Nod. Did I choose I might give other names to the commonwealth and its subdivision—names that appear on any sober and matter of fact atlas-but their publication would do scant good. On the heels of notoriety would tread the hurrying feet of summer tourists. Vandals would make common the virgin charms of village, of valley and of mountain, and, more personal than all others I have this reason for reticence: An influx of visitors would crowd the quaint, many pillared wooden tavern, and induce the land-lord to raise the price of board and lodging from $4 per week to the huge sum demand ed and obtained for accommodations by the hotel keepers who reign at the popular resorts lying north and south of this yet are my experience of this summer will, I trust, be duplicated next year. On in-vitation the smooth faced town drug-gist—he of the burly form and scarred upper lip-will close his shop, write on the lattered slate "leave orders at the postoffice" and join me in a fishing expedition up the tiny torrent of some mountain stream; or, on payment of ten shillings, a da; a wage thereabouts, "Uncle Free," the hunter, will guide me over the hills from early morn till late at night in march of the clusive panther that "woz union have decorated accessmin" up yander t'other day."

THE EVENT OF THE DAY.

If we chance to most a beer there may be fun, because in the seventy years of his backwoods life 'Free' has killed 300 of the

"varmints." He hopes to make the tale 300 before he dies, for he is superstitious, sacrifices to the "Witch of West mountain," and claims to have her promise that e shall live until his desires in the way of ursine slaughter are fulfilled.

If less active recreation suggests uself I may again descend the rickety stone steps to the tree embowered depths of Indian Hollow, and, seated on a strauded "market log" from the northern lumber woods, watch the river take its initial leap along a rocky precipies preparatory to its more tumultuous drop at the "big falls" a mile below. A spring at my back will as of rore join its silvery treble to the roar of the insistent flood at my feet, and, if my visit shall chance to be on a Sunday afternoon, I may hear floating down from the little church on the nearby heights the fresh voiced chanting of a maiden choir.

One claim and one alone has the quiet valley for recognition by the outside world, ability to measure off cloth behind the and that is a matter of history forgotten by all save the old inhabitants who daily gather about the postoffice in the village store to await the arrival of the mail stage These children in actual experience, but veterans (many of them) of four-core years, delight to tell with the whistling voiced and treble tuned verbiage of a ze their knowledge of the one distinguished man the place has known—a man who left his father's farm to seek a wider experience, and who in time became speaker of the national house of representatives-the only speaker, by the way, that the great state of Nowhere ever furnished to the American congress.

Peaceful, secludes, unambitious, long may the hamlet at the mountain's base continue its existence as the home of simple manners and hearty hospitality. FRED C. DAYTON.

ELECTRICAL EXECUTION.

The Views of a Man Who Saw Kemmie Die.

Perhaps nothing of late years has excited such widespread interest as the recent tory. He controls the larger portion of the execution at Auburn, N. Y., of William Massillon coal district and has but harely Kemmler by electricity. The fact that the begun to develop his holdings, which will current had to be turned on twice to kill eventually make him richer than the most the poor wretch has called out many protests against the new system of capital punishment. Regarding the matter one of the witnesses of the legal tragedy, Dr. E. C. Spitzka, the well known physician,

"I prefer first the guillotine, second the gallows and last of all electrical execution.

Vever before have I felt just as I do now. What I have seen has impressed me deeply, not exactly with what you would call horror, but rather with wonder and doubt. I have seen hangings far more brutal than this execution, but I have never seen anything so awe inspiring. What

O 6.1/1 have seen satis- DR. E. C. SPITZKA. fies me that the scale of capital punishment is first the guillotine, second the gallows and far in the rear the electrical execution. "I do not regard the execution a failure, their home is a frequent scene of social but it did not appear to be what it had gatherings.

promised to be. The object of the system was to rid capital punishment of its features of barbarity and cruelty. It did not do this. It is shown by this system that under other conditions than those that existed (conditions which might easily exist) the execution could be made absolutely frightful.'

The Oucen of the Rebekahs The recent great assemblage of Odd Fellows at Chicago, where the first cantonment of the patriarchs militant was held, included one feature among others of remarkable interest—the splendid showing made by the Daughters of Rebekah, of satell, stout man whose national convention Mrs.

M. F. Rea is president. Mrs. Rea is a native of St. Louis and received the Rebekah degree lodges. To Mrs. Rea's efforts are MRS. M. E. REA.

due largely the constantly increasing activity and rapid growth in numbers and importance of the Daughters of Rebekah. A member of the order says of her: "Mrs. Rea always inspires me to more faithful work and to less consideration for small personal likes and dislikes. After a talk with her I feel that I could take my worst enemy by the hand and be his friend. Indeed I feel that I have no enemies. She certainly may rightfully claim the title which is sometimes given her of the 'Queer of the Rebekahs.' "

Queer Uses For Fish.

Strange beliefs as to the power of fish charms exist in parts of southern Russia particularly where fish are found that have two small hard round bones on the sides of the head. They are believed to have the power when worn by the owner to prevent colic, and they are termed colic stones. The more wealthy of the presents have the colic stones mounted in gold, and they are worn upon the neck as a valuable addition to a necklace. The bones of the common bulibead are much used among the Russian peasants as a charm against fever. Among European nations in the Middle Ages doctors of medicine had faith that two bones found in the head of the tench have medical virtues. The bones were applied to the skin in cases of fever. The tench is an European fish and the United States fish commission is endeav oring to introduce it to American waters

When a Man Marries His Trouble Begins So far marriage has not proved a succes with Mr. George I. Moore, of Ous, Me. While driving home with his bride after the wedding the horse ran away, throwing the couple in a heap by the road- 1. and smashing a new buggy into kindling wood. Late the next evening Mr. Moore's neigh bors serenaded him and he was obliged to get up and make molasses candy and pop-corn for them in order to stop the din. After the guests had departed the bridegroom's hennery caught fire and burned down. He is now looking for fresh trou ble of some sort.

From a report recently made public by the census department it appears that, during the last decade, the states of the Union have decreased their indebtedness

JOHN G. WARWICK.

The Man Who Is Pitted Against Repre--tative McKinley.

John G. Warwick, the Democratic nomince for congress, who is cont-sting the Sixteenth district of Ohio with Maj. Mo-Kinley is an Irishman by birth and an American by choice. Though his career has few salient points for the biographer it is illustrative of that numerous class of men who have successfully raised them selves above their original environment and achieved a considerable success.

Mr Warwick was born in County Ty rone. Ireland, about sixty-three years ago and he arrived in the United States in 1850 with his brother. He became a dry goods clerk in the little town of Navarre O., and moved to Massillon a few years later. In those days the Olno canal the great common carrier, and barter was the method of commercial exchange. It therefore followed that to be ever so humble a dry goods clerk involved more than

Young Warwick was shrewd beyond years, and when his employers fail ed he was appoint ed receiver. He sold out the stock and theresites started in busi ness for himself in 1857. He has never failed in any business unde

taking, and he laid the foundation of his fort

JOHN G. WARWICK.

goods store. A united other means with his own, and by degrees he branched out into several enter prises, dropping his retail trade for more profitable undertakings. Though reported to be a millionaire his fortune is much less, and consists of real property in the shape of town lots and farms, large flouring mills and coal terribank and member of several local boards

His public life began in 1883, when he was elected lieutenant governor with Hoadly being defeated when a candidate for the second time. Ouce before this he was de feated for a congressional nomination, but has been a candidate before the people only

He cannot make speeches, and does not try to. He is a good organizer, and has always been a strict Democrat.

His labors and his contributions, at times when the condition of the party was none of the best, put it under lasting obligations, which have been recognized by a nomination in a district with 2,100 Democratic plurality.

Mr. Warwick is held in high respect at Massillon, where he was honored with a heavy complimentary vote each time he ran for lieutenant governor. The War-wicks have a handsome residence and are surrounded by every refining influence. The family circle is very delightful, and

GEN MIDDLETON'S SUCCESSOR.

The Officer Now at the Head of the Canadian Militia.

Col. Walker Powell, adjutant general of the Canadian militis, has been in com-mand of the Dominion forces since the resignation of Gen. Middleton, and if the law requiring that the chief of the militia shall be a British army officer is repealed Col. Powell will probably be the first Canadian apof soldierly bearing, and was born May 20, 1828. He received his education at Victoria college, Cobourg, Ont., and was first appointed an offiover twenty years appointed an offi-er of the Norfolk last decade she has spent much has s time traveling throughout the United States and United States and United States and Constant of the United S United States and deputy adjutant general for the Dominion, est a blishing and on April 25, 1875, he became adjutant general. For more than twenty-six years therefore Col. Powell has been busy at headquarters aiding in the development of the existing militia system. The total strength of the Dominion militia is 38,783 men. There is also a permanent corps of 950 men.

> They Have Youth, Health and Wealth A very notable wedding of recent date was that which made Miss Alice M. Janney, of Baltimore, the wife of Thomas G. Insigi, of Boston. It occurred at the

MRS. ALICE M. IASIGI. French Roman Catholic church of St. Vin. cent de Paul in New York city, and was witnessed by a notable collection of fashlonables manies Mrs Iasizi is a beautiful young woman the has traveled much While abroad who has traveled much. While abroad last year she was betrothed to an Austrian baron, but for some reason the engage ment was broken. Mr lasigi is of Turk-ish descent and has no occupation, his large wealth enabling him to avoid all cares of business save those connected with the management of his estate.

Animated Barometers.

It is said that an observant person may learn to rely on goldfish to foretell the learn to rely on goldfish to toreten the coming of a storm. At such times they are restless, and dart about from place to place within the globe or aquarium. During mild, pleasant weather they remain quiet. Goldfish were first brought from Caina to America thirty years ago.

Indigestion

Is not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become deprayed and the system esfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's flaresparities is the best cure for Indigestics, even when complicated with Liver Complicated. is proved by the following testiment from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brookway is proved by the following testimeny from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:—

"Liver complaint and indigention made my life a burden and came teste ending my existence. For more them four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me. and early the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned saveral physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good natil I commenced the use of Ayer's Barsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Some after commencing to take the Barsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the shilley to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all bousehold dutes. The medicine has given me a new lesse of life."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla, PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mans. Price $1; als bottles, $5. Worth $5 a bettle.

CURE
Bick Headache and rollers all the trouble dent to a billous state of the system. a Disgineer, Nausea, Drownineer, Distree cating, Pain in the Side, &c. Walls their romarkable success has been able to be

SICK

Headache, yet Carra's Livin Files are equally valuable in Constitution, surface and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels.

Even if they only cured

Ache they would be almost priceless to these

ACHE is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boats. Our pills care is white others do not.
CARTER'S LATTER LIVER PROFESS TO THE DESCRIPTION OF TWO PILLS THE DESCRIPTION

Small Fill. Small Don. Small Price.

THE CHICAGO and ATLANTIC RAILWAY

With its Pullman Built Equipment, Substantially Constructed Roadway and Low Rates of Fare, Insures a Safe, Speedy and Economical Journey to All Points East and West. Write to your nearest salinesy agent for the Attractive Love Rates Via this line.

TIME TABLE, Taking Effect May 11, 1860.
EASTWARD.
	No. 2.	No. 8.	No. 13	No. 10
Lv. Chicago	8 85em	$ $0pm	7 56 pm	1 10pm
Archer Av	8 Dam	3 40pm	6 OSPER	100
EURIOWANA.	90.am		8 20 pm. 8 55 pm.	147
TIMILITIONS .	9 85acc 10 10acc		9 Mpro	7 200
" Crown Pt	10 57am			1 2700
N. Judson	11 27am		10 40 pm	9 000mm
" Rochester.	12 27 pm	6 37 pm
Akron	12.50m cr		Li 30omi	No. 6
" Newton	1 15pm	7 16pm	12 1 tem	MO. P
" Bolivat	1 2tinms	1
" Huntington	2 10pm	7 55pm	(2 50am)	i 10mm
" Kingsland.,	2 45 pm			سعين و
" Decatur .		8 45 pm	1 Hear
Enterprise	3 52pm		3 Linux
" Spenc rvalie	4 KUPEN	-  	2 Herr	-
Lima		9 50pm	2 00000	*
Alger	5 Supm	10.00	2 47em	10.00
'Kenton	o ozpan	10 37 pm 11 20 pm
Ar. Marion		11 00om
New York.		9 45 mm	13 10pg
WESTWARD.
	1 No. 1	No. 1	No. 5	i No.
1	1 -107	1		1

DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT

Prof. P. C. POWLER, Mood

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

The Marion Daily Star. Published Brown Brening Broop! Sunday

W. G. MARDENG.

EIGHT PAGES

AUGUST 16. SATURDAY, - . Tax news of a couple men going over Niagara Falls must be true, even if the bodies have not been found. It comes too late in the season to be an adversment for the great Niagara show.

Tax Chicago Tribune contains a bit that will be road with due interest here. According to the Tribune, Mary Weldon, a girl at Schweinfurth's headquarters, has given birth to a girl that is attributed to the Holy Ghost. This is getting things along pretty far and ed him, and at the end of the time he is getting things along pretty tall and the true of the seek another is not only vigorously commented upon announced his purpose to seek another field of labor, reasons which were quite but has set on foot a movement that will break up the Schweinfurth nests t which you charge him with, but do not which you charge him with, but do not prove. Why was this public attack the prove. Rockford, Ill., if there is any law that prove. will do it.___

THE long drouth has served as a very good test on the waterworks plant, and there is cause for congratulation in the result. Of course the works are not supplying one third of the subscribers it will later on, but during this dry season there have been more using the hydrants than appear on the books. Lawn sprinkling has been very free, and yet there is no perceptible diminution of the supply at the reservoir. The Marion waterworks are all right, even if they did come alowly.

THE Delaware Press run across the estimates of the census in this district as published in the Commercial Gazette, and the first glance at the figures not only set that paper hilariously crazy, but out of the delirium came a dizzy poem entitled "When Marion's Blowing is Done." The Press ought to withheld until it should become public lasting life. He says he has no pleasure have experience enough to know that in another channel. The time came in the death of him that dieth, (Eze. types sometimes err in even great when the accused left this county, givpapers like the Commercial, and had it ing other and worthy reasons, and it figured carefully it would have become apparent that Delaware's population was just 8068, as originally estimated, nearly 300 less than Marion. This outburst of hilarity over an error shows just how Delaware feels and it is refreshing to have the laugh on them. Take thy seat among the gallery gods, Oh Delaware! You are not in the pro cession that sits in the orchestra circle.

THERE is a manifest curiosity to learn what will result from the Erie purit in this case we do not know them. chase of the C. and A., and at the same Miss Bull and her folks say affidavits time there is a strong disposition to see what can be done that may result in This seems enough. If a man's charac-Marion profiting by the change rather ter has been assailed without reason than being a loser. While realizing all the responsibility won't be hard to along that the change of division termini from Marion to Galion would be a loss that would be felt, the situation has never once seemed the cause for grief that some have made it. Galion is too weak a rival for Marion to sit idly by and watch her reach a supremicy without an effort. With advantages of location for division termini and with wealth enough to offer the Erie people better shops than they have at Galion, Marion is in condition to give Galion the liveliest tussle she ever had for the best of the Erie deal At any rate we can try it. It is a good time to make a big step forward, rather than permit a hole to be made in our excellent census showing. Why not have a public meeting to look into this matter, to see what can be offered in that way of inducement to the Erie people to bring their shops and division here? A committee could be sent to the Erie officials to learn what kind of a proposition would be entertained, and the committee might be advised what inducements Marion's enterprise could offer. At any rate the meeting could be made one of great value. There it could be discussed whether the interests of the city and the special interests of large property owners will permit a retrogression of join in promoting further growth. An industrial fund could be raised, a fund the first object of which would be to secure the Erie shops, and failing in that, could be applied to promoting other new industries that would employ as many men, resulting in the end in the same gratifying outcome.

It seems a very opportune time for Marion to make a strong move. There are the interests at stake and the means at hand to accomplish a great deal, and if Marion isn't equal to the occasion we have overestimated her pride and her resources. Shall it be a rousing public meeting?

Pire at Caledonia.

Word comes from Caledonia today of a costly fire which occurred at that place Friday night. At about 11 o'clock the Rice saw and planing mill, located in the south part of town, was discovered to be on fire and was soon beyond the control of the fire department. The sheds and a quantity of lumber was , burned, together with ruination of the valuable machinery. The department was kept busy preventing the fire spreading to the lumber yards and adjoining dwelling houses.

The extent of the loss is not learned. but it is though there was no insurance on the property, in which case the

Let Us Bave Pair Play FRIDAY'S RECORD. Ep. Star. In your issue of August 9th (which I received several days known in this county. Allow me a few words in the interests of fairness. I do not champion the gentleman referred to. If he is guilty as charged I hope the fact will be proved. But I do emphatically protest against the method of trial by newspaper which attacks the reputation of a man after he has left the community in which he has, also protest that it is unfair thus to at least until, now been above reproach.

attack by name a reputable man, while carefully concealing the source of the accusation. His reputation is worth as much to him as his accuser's is to her. Let the names of both parties be given gentleman referred to "HAD reasons for leaving," as I happen to know. He was engaged for one year from August 1st, 1889. He fulfilled his contract to the entire antisfaction of those who employ-withheld until after the accused had gone to a distant state, when by the accuser's own testimony the alleged misconduct occured a month or six

The STAR admits the above to publication without any "protests" in which Rev. Thomas so emphatically deals. At the outset we shall give the accuser of the departing minister, who isinone other than Miss Maud Bull, residing on south East street, against whom there has never been a breath of reproach in any form, a young lady whom all her acquaintances say would be the last in the world to wilfully make disputed. But the story is denied.

resolves itself into a question of verac-fending. We still insist that a minister that indecently exposes himself to a young lady deserves exposure to the nublic and Miss Bull charges the party

Satisfactory Entertainment

The entertainment given at the Pres-

Marie Knibloe, under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E., gave universal satisgreeted her. Miss Knibloe was evifaction to the select audience that Knibloe was a former resident of Marion, and should she appear here again would be welcomed by a much larger

The Y. P. S. C. E. wish to tender

thanks to Prof. Craig for the use of a fine Fischer piano. Miss Knibloe pronounced the instrument exceedingly

Driven to II.

"Now, papa," said the summer girl

"Snicide," said the old man discon

Preserving the Unities.

"I'm writing a play dealing with th

"Yes, with a few hair raising epi

A Great Convenience.

"Ah, then the cannibals will be abl

Gos de Smith-Lam head over ears i

Judge Peterby-1 suppose those ear are the same ones over which you are in Both in the Same Fly.

"I would suggest ice cream," remarke

"I, too, am in mortal fragments," re plied Miss Boscon Street, of Boston.-

Newspaper Personality.

Bright Office Boy-No, he's out; but the foreman's more'n made up for it. He caught. Castaway yesterday at fifteen t

No Trouble There.

Doctor-You must be very careful

Caller- Is the editor in?

Miss Bleecker, "but I'm dead broke."

to order their missionaries in advance

"Do you know there is likely to gayly, "what do you think is the bes solately.—Washington Press.

"All Lo comedy, I suppose?"

sodes."- New York Herald.

cable to the Caunibal islands:

-Lawrence American.

love with your dailzater.

debt. -- Texas Siftings.

New York Sun.

one. --. Indee

about your thet summer resort?"

Indian question.

referred to with that offence.

Respectfully Yours, sufficient without the unworthy weeks ago?

after date, at Ashley, Ohio,) under the caption "Had Reasons for Leaving," MORE ABOUT FAITH AT THE ADVENTyou bring a very serious charge against a minister of the gospel who is well IST CAMP MEETING.

> of the flesh. The works of the flesh Elder Jones Continues his Lectures on the were set in vivid contrast to the fruits Subject of Faith, Showing how the Failer of the spirit and the sanctifying influ-Sons of Adam may be Restered to Inne

In the early Friday morning's meet ing there appeared to be "the sound of rain" in the camp-a breaking loose, and praising God for the blessing of the gospel, and the free and full salvation through Christ. There was a large at tendance and many testimonies borne. The meeting continued till breakfast of news concerning the Beekmanites to the public or let the names of both the withheld. The charity (love) which and their leader, Rev. Schweinfurth, "thinketh no evil" and is "kind" would though not of the Adventist faith by that will be read with due interest here. time. Though held so early(5:30 a.m.) declaring that what they had heard declaring that what they had heard Lord comes as the day after they get had the "genuine gospel ring," and to Heaven. When Christ comes, He made their heart-strings vibrate anew with the joy and peace they experienced when first converted. Others expressed their intention of casting in their lot with this people.

HOW WE ARE MADE RIGHTEOUS. At nine o'clock Elder Jones continued his talk of righteousness by faith. He the tongue, for it is an unruly member began by reading Romans 3:24-26.

"Being justified freely by His grace through the redemption that is in thrist Jesus, whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in for the remission of sins that are past through the forbearance of God."

You see it is all on the part of God, His grace, his kindness, that we are made righteous. Read Titus 3:3-7. It is the goodness of God that leads us to repentance.

ATONEMENT THROUGH CHRIST. God has a government; it embraces the universe and He has a law which is as universal as His government. Government means a system of laws can you? such a charge without sufficient reason.

This paper is not engaged in attacking any person's reputation. The affair in question was known at this office about two weeks before publication, it was known to Rev. Thomas and other church authorities, and with the understanding that an investigation was sure to ensue the publication was withheld until it should become public in another charge. The time came in the death of him that dieth. (Eze.)

Government means a system of laws maintained. How is God's government means a system of laws can you?" Satan is called the accuser of the brethren (Rev. 12:10), and he can do enough of this without christians aiding him by accusing one another. See 2 Pet.2:9-13; Jude 8-12. "Charatte ity thinketh no evil." Paul's advice is, as satisfaction for our sins. God so loved the world He gave His only begotten son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everland in the death of him that dieth. (Eze.) 18:23, 32) But desires that all men should come to repentance. 2 Pet. 3:9 ng other and worthy reasons, and it Says Paul, "Be ye reconciled to God for semed a duty to the STAR to vent ne hath made him to be sin for us who enough information to warn the public. knew no sin, that we might be made the propriety of such a course is not the righteousness of God in him."— 2 Cor. 5:20, 21. Thus can God save the sinner. The wages of sin is death, but We give the authority and the matter Rom. 6:23; 1 Cor. 16:3. Sin shall not have dominion G. A. Irwin, president; L. T. Dysert, ity, whether an innocent and reputable over you, for ye are not under the law young lady is falsifying or whether the but under grace."-Rom. 6:14. Christ minister is false in his denial. This is was "made of a woman, made under the whole of it. The accuser or the the law to redeem them that are under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons.—Gal. 4:4,5. He was party accused is lying. In most cases the word of the young lady is accepted. not made of a sinner, but was counted If there are reasons for not believing He was made sin for us as one. He was made sin for us wounded for our transgressions, bruised for our iniquities, and with his stripes we are healed. Transgression of the law brings God's curse, (Isa. 24:5,6)but, praise the Lord, Christ hath redeemed will be furnished at the proper time. is from the curse of the law, being

Sunday at 9 o'clock there will be a session of the state branch of the National Religious Liberty Association. At 10:45 Elder Durland will speak on made a curse for us.—Gal. 3:13. the Lord, "When thou (that means us) shalt make his soul an offering for sin, 'Why we observe the Seventh Day." At 2:45 and 7:45 p. m. Elder Janes is to he shall see his seed-he shall see the speak on the subject of "Church and travail of his soul, and shall be State." Dr. Hare will give a lecture on "Health and Temperance" at 4 o'clock fied."—Isa, 53:10, 11. What is there to keep us from coming to God today? It in the afternoon. s His pleasure that all should be saved. From and before the days of Calvin, The managers of the camp meeting you know, some have worshiped a God announce that it is free, that no adthat wanted to save a few and damn mittance fee is charged, whatever, and byterian church Friday evening by all the rest for his own pleasure; but Marie Fribles under the suspices of that was John Calvin, and not God; that all are invited and are welcome. and before Calvin it was St. Augustine The parables of the lost sheep and the Nothing more than ordinary has turned show that there is rejoicing in Heaven up since my last letter. We have a dry dently controlled by a spirit of propri-ety with respect to the place in which the entertainment was given. Miss Savior? Then get the love of God in time, corn here will be slim, pastures dried up and water low Not much ploughing done, too dry. I our hearts, and help save others Don't you know that the chiefest joy in that great day and in the earth made new will be that of knowing that you fair price this fail, and next fall may not. audience than greeted her Friday even-ing have helped save some one. When a sinner repents, joy breaks forth from Wheat here this season was our best crop. Corn would have been good if we had been the heart of the Savior. The thing for us to do is to satisfy Him for His love favored with more rain of late. The corn it will take to fatten hogs will be worth manifested toward us, and not slight His proffered grace. Don't you know that it causes the keenest grief to have more than the hogs. No hog cholers here now that I know of Hogs will undoubtedly sell low, not fatten a person slight your offers of kindness? Christ died of a broken heart in seeing those for whom He lived and died and cattle too. Sheep may keep up. Hay, plenty as it is, is in demand. Pack ers are looking it up.

been forgiven.

of the sea.

than ever

slight His love and mercy. Pon't think it presumption to take the gift which God has offered. "He that covereth his sins," says God, "Shall not prosper; A picnic over in Jones' grove lately. Our full blooded Prohibition speech, and two of three others, were the subjects.

LaRue is holding her own in business but whose confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy." In other words shall be treated better than he and her ministers are preaching on baptism. I suggest that they furnish a con densed statement of their views as to future leserves. Prov. 28:13. Then what is rewards and punishments for the LaRue to hinder our confessing our sins? Hi promise is, "If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins." Do you believe hat He is able to perform what He has promised? News, on the same day. Let us see how they agree. If we had no whisky, we would need no

Read Isa

Say to him, "No, I don't iod and the devil in this matter; God always reveals to us the sins we have not confessed, while the devil never does this, but always brings up before no more "-Jer. 31-34. He says. "None shall be mentioned unto him "-Fiek.

33 Ib. And I believe it preachers. Whisky and beer are the cause After we have confessed our sins, and of all sin, so say fanatics. Joe Spikes, what then do not believe that they are for-given, we make God a liar; for He has source of a small part only. de you think of this? I think it is the Healthy generally, here, some sickness said that He would forgive. Read Isa. 1 18; Micah. 7-18, 19; Ps. 103:12. Do you believe this? Then confess your about Agosta. I learn of a death once in a while there. Dr. Sawyer seems to be riding a good sins, and let God put the wicked things into the depths of the sea. It is satan deal. A reception party at his home lately. that accuses us of our sins after we quite entertaining, have confessed them and they have W. H. Hinkle, a W H. Hinkle, a student of Dr Gimmel been forgiven. God does not taunt his of Forest, Ohio, starts for Cincinnati for creatures in that way. Satan says. "Don't you see your sins?" Tell him, Medical college, on the 28th He is taking No. I don't, for they are in the depths a thorough course as a student. He may continue, and say, I understand that a Caledonia man and But don't you see them there, blacker Frank Shoultz, are out here electioneering

I learn that Dr Gailey and John J for God says they are whiter than Hopkins are aspiring in the same direction snow." There is this difference between They will not all succeed. A young man by the name of Miller, near Agusta, died latery. A LaRue doctor's patient, I learn A case of sickness once in while; 10 grains of quinine every 10th us the sins we have confessed. He tries to destroy our faith in God's Water is scarce, and the Prob Water is scarce, and the Prohibs won' promise to forcive. God's promise to allow beer used in its place the man that confesses and turns from The dividends in the Sharp assignment his sin is, "I will remember their sins will be right I learn

It seems that Charley Foster will not of his sins that he hath committed; make the congressional race in this district Can Marion county furnish a candidate to make the race? The district can be carried In the afternoon the Bible study was upon the text. "When the kings came campaign Dashaway—That's all right, doctor in to see the guests he saw there a man G. N. Myers is My landlady attends to that.—New York which had not on a wedding garment." is improving fast. G N Myers is at Magnetic Springs and FACTS ABOUT TEA.

Many excellent thoughts were present-the spirit of God instead of the birth

ences of the love of God shed abroad

In the evening the speaker took fo

his text, Rev. 14:5: "In their mouth was found no guile for they were with

This is spoken of a particular com pany. It is true that no one will be faulty before the throne of God, but the previous verse says that this company was redeemed from among men, plainly showing that they are the company that will be living on the earth when Christ comes. Those who are redeem ed must be as good, the day before the will make no change in the character of the individual but simply in the physical being. This absence of guile in their mouths indicates a state of 2, how to attain to this perfection. We must bridle the whole body, but in order to do this, we must first bridle and speaketh great things. The Psalmist asks, who shall abide in God's holy hill? In answer we read, "He that backbiteth not with his tongue nor doeth evil to his neighbor, nor tak-

-Ps. 15. The Lord says, "Thou shalt not raise a false report." -Ex. 23:1. To do so is to bear false witness. How can we know whether a report is false or not? We may know when the person it is tree. Says the wise man, "A tale-bearer revealeth secrects," and "He that repeateth a matter separateth very friends."—Prov. 11:13; 17:9. When a person comes to you saying, "Can you keep a secret?" Tell him "Yes,

If this course were pursued all tale-

CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS.

The fifth session of the conference met at 5 o'clock p. m. The different named persons were elected as officers secretary; D. K. Mitchell, treasurer.

Executive committee: G. A. Irwin, O

J. Mason, E. J. VanHorn, H. M. Mitch-

delegates: G. A. Irwin, O. J. Mason,

FUTURE MEETINGS.

on "Parochial Schools and the State."

LaRue.

Saturday evening Elder Jones speaks bearing would cease.

E. J. VanHorn.

Satan is called the accuse

"Can

reporting a matter does not know

eth up a reproach against his neighbor out fault before the throne of God."

in the beart.

ed upon the necessity of thorough-going honesty in the christian profession The total of the tea consumption of the of being clothed only in the righteousworld annually amounts to 1,854,500,000 ness of God which is by faith of Jesus zbauoq. Christ, and the new birth, the birth of

During the season of 1877-8 but 8,515 pounds of tes were exported from Ceylon. whereas in the season of 1887-8 22,000,000 pounds were exported.

As early as 1660 tea is mentioned in Engand in an act of parliament, whereby duty of eight pence was charged on every rallon of it made for sale. Since 1829 very considerable attention bas been paid to the growing of tea in India, and the industry has opened up a large field for capitalists and Europeans. Outside of China itself, Great Britian is the largest ten consuming country in the world, the amount of tea taken there being no less than 220,000,000 pounds annually. The total area of the world's tea cultivation is 11,314,600 acres, the total annual production is 1,377,600 pounds, and the total exports amount to 503,101,000 pounds.

The best of the Chinese tea crop seldon reaches anywhere but Russia. It is al ways bought up by the Russian agents immediately they can place their hands upon it.

It is estimated that the Chinese them selves consume more than 800,000,000 pounds of tea annually, or more than three times as much as they sell to all other countries. The cost of the raw leaf is said to be fou cents per pound. Picking, firing, land car riage and duties, export duty, freight and charges make up the cost of the better tem to sixteen cents per pound. The consumption of tes in the United States in 1880-1 was 80,000,000 pounds. In 1884-5 it had fallen off to 67,000,000 pounds, but it has since increased, the figures for 1889-90 being given as 75,000,000 pounds. In Japan, as in China, the people drink n enormous quantity of tes. Neverthe less, in the season of 1886-7 Japan sent 12. 500,000 pounds of tea to Canada, and 34, 250,000 pohnds to the United States, ex porting in all to these two countries say.

From explorations recently made it has been shown that the tea plant is growing wild in the forests and jungles of uppe Siam and the Himalayas, and in the great range of mountains extending through China to the Yang-tse-Kiang.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

THE TURF.

The race horses are distancing the trot ters as far as beating records is concerned Nearly every week there is a record beaten Two millionaires are probably the luckfails, take one or two more, and as a last resort, "Tell it unto the church." American turf. The former is the Hon. W

L. Scott, the latter Senator George Hearst The Duke of Portland has retired Donoran to the stud. The colt's winnings on the turf amounted to $287,499.33—by far the largest amount ever credited to a single committees reported and the following Turfmen abroad have begun to agitate the nuestion of long distance races. It is more than probable that the English Jockev club will adopt a rule requiring the diferent associations under its control to make all races for 3-year-olds and upward ell, H. W. Miller. General conference

The claim Mr. Withers and Mr. Morris both make concerning their straightaway tracks is that they are the only ones that should be used in deciding great races, for on them the best horses must win. Very often on the old tracks races were stole by inferior horses through some of the well known tricks of the jockeys.

The racing stables owned by the widow of the Duc de Castries and Baron de Soubeyrau have been sold by aution in France. Le Glorieux, a colt which ran fifth in the Grand Prix, sold for £3,200; a son of Fortin for £1.500 and Maypole, the best of Silvio's stock, for £2,200 to Baron de Soubeyrau and Cadi, by Silvio, was sold to M. Michel Ephrussi for £1,600.

The chestnut stallion Endower, foaled 1874, by Enquirer, out of Florence Wal lace, by Vandal, died at Caldwell, Tex., recently, from colic. He was a promising youngster, but injured a tendon at an early age and was retired to the stud. Some of his colts in Texas have made good marks, and others are looked upon as valuable for both the track and the stud.

C. C. Seaman, of San Diego, Cal., former owner of the $51,000 Bell Boy, has a gold mounted tooth of the unfortunate horse, only substantial portion of him wheat will be sown or not, not more remained after his death by fire. But than corn I think. Wheat will sell for a fair price this fail, and next fall may not. which is Bell Boy's only stallion foal of 1889. Ding Dong's dam is by Sir Walkill, full brother of Walkill Chief.

LITERARY LIGHTS.

W. H. Doane, the hymn writer, is man ager of an iron foundry in Cincinnati. Rudyard Kipling, the new English literary comet, is a short, square built man, who has a pale skin, thin, brown hair and near sighted eyes. He wears spectacles.

Lee C. Harby, author of "Texau Type and Contrasts," is a native of South Caro lina. He lived in Texas for twenty years, but is now a permanent resident of New York.

Lord Tenurson has vielded to a request to recite his "Charge of the Light Brigade and parts of "The Princess" in an Edison phonograph. His son says the tones of the poet's voice are reproduced with startling fidelity.

Rider Haggard, the novelist, hears a cer tain facial resemblance to the young em-peror of Germany. He is tall and slim and broad shouldered, and has the bearing of a practical athlete rather than an overwork ed man of letters.

Daudet, it is said, smokes, like a formac and works like an engine. When working at a book that pleases him he will write straight on through the twenty-four hours, and lock the door against his wife lest she should compel him to go to bed.

James Wilton Brooks, editor of The University Magazine, has received the degree of LL D from St John's college, Annapolis, the third oldest college to the United States. He is said to be the youngest doc tor of laws in America, being only 36 years

Cardinal Manning's wonderful poem The Dream of Gerontius," was rescued from the waste paper basket. The great doctor had written it as a literary exer cise, and had in a fit of discontent throw; it it into the vawning basket; it was, it is aid, a Catholic dignitary, now holding high position in London, who rescued the poem and preserved it for the world's read

At the convict camp on the Scuffie plan ation in Florida recently a number of by a good candidate and well managed the men were leaning against a wire fence when the lightning struck the fence, killing one man instantly and stunning saveral others very severely.

PERSONAL GOSSIP

Maj Butter verth's salary as secretary of the Culumbian fair is to be $12.500. Service Davis, of Minnesons, used to be telegraph operator, and was one of the first four men to read to serrathy in sound. Henry E. Abbey, who is probably the most successful theatrical manager of the time, began his career as a cornet player in an Chio rural orchestra. Age is telling more and more on Cardinal rman. He had recently to be carried into charch at Birmingham, and carried out at the conclusion of the services

Roy Winton, of Winfield, Kan., is the latest musical prodigy. He is but 5 years old and plays with a wonderful degree of intuitive skill the most difficult organ and Charles Nordhoff, the accomplished

Washington correspondent of The New York Herald, has been placed by Mr Ben nett on the retired list of that newspaper on half pay for life. Senator Cockrell, of Missouri, is described as a "tall, thin, sharp faced, shrill voiced nator, noted as the most excitable man in the senate and a good type of the old ashioned controversialist. Vice President Morton delights in the oesession of three wigs. One is short hair, just been cut; another is of medium growth, just right, and the third is rather ag-in fact, needs trimming.

R. D. Sears, who won the tennis championship three successive years, is about 32 ears old He looks like a divinity student with his spectacles, which he wears ever while playing his favorite game. A centenarian known as "Uncle Dave," who was one of Andrew Jackson's soldiers died near Sheffield, Ala., recently. His wife died in 1842, and every day since he burial he had prayed at her grave. Woodford Sanders, a Virginia artist, ha been creating a stir in Natchez, Miss., by painting portraits of deceased persons whom he never saw. All that he needs is a verbal description from somebody.

Of the Rev. Dr. Theodoric Pryor, who lied recently in Nottoway county, Va., it a related that in half a century of minisment to preach on account of ill health.

The late Abraham Bonnafield, clerk of the county court of Tucker county, W was born without legs over fifty years ago. Yet he was an excellent cavalry soldier in the Confederate army all through the late John Orth, the ex-Archduke John of Austria, has established himself in busi-ness at Buenos Ayres. He intends soon to so to Valparaiso as agent for an English use in managing shipments of saltpetre and other articles.

Joe Friend, known to the police of sev eral cities as the boy traveler, is now work ing for a living in San Francisco. The boy's parents live in Chicago, but can't keep him home. He is only 12 years old and has wandered over thousands of

Stephen B. Elkins' mountain home in West Virginia is built on a peak from The house is more like a baronial castle han a residence. The surrounding mountsing are full of trout streams and game

Mr. George M. Stearns, who has be sked to run for congress in one of the Berkshire Hills districts of Massachusetts. says: "I cannot stand. I must have the few remaining years of my life for what leasure and joy out of this an get of p beautiful world."

Shortly after the battle of Sedan Prince Bismarck found a baby sleeping in his bed, and pinned to its frock was a note stating that its father had been killed at Sedan and that its mother was unable to care for it. Bismarck accepted the trust, adopted the child, and today he is a model

Col. James Young, the model farmer of Pennsylv min, has recently celebrated his seventie: a hirthday, He is one of the most intelligent and progressive farmers of the Union and is universally beloved by all who know him. The hospitality of his farmer home is known in foreign lands as well as in America.

FOREIGN GOSSIP.

The Royal library of Berlin contains 797,-974 bound books.

over 60,000 a vent.

Turkish women eat rose leaves with butter to secure plumpness.

The pearl fishing season in Ceylon only lasts twenty-two days, and during that period 11,000,000 cysters are brought to the surface by fifty divers. The largest library in the world is that founded by Louis XIV in Paris. There are t 400 000 volumes, 175,000 manuscripts, 300, 000 maps and charts and 150,000 coins and medals

In the People's Palace of London the class of reading is improving, and great demand is made for technical and scientific works by the borrowers, who are the working classes of the city.

Trade marks were known in ancient B. C.: they were authorized in England in 1300: Guttenberg, the inventor of printing is said to have had a lawrenit over his trade

A trial has been made at Civita Vecchia of a nautical ball invented by Signor Bal-samello. It is seven feet in diameter, and can hold four persons. When closed it sinks, and is steered and propelled under water by rudder and screw The Russian saloon for tea drinking is an interesting feature of life in Russian cities. The waiters are attired in white from head to foot, with a large black purs at the waist, and all are men. Tes i drunk alone or with lemon, and the sugar eaten from the hand. Bleven or fifteen cupe are not too many for an old tea

ROYAL FLUSHES.

Queen Victoria is in favor of Sunday music for the people.

It has been discovered that the German empress is descended from Harold I, founder of the kingdom of Norway, and from Hakon V, its last king.

Prince George's full name is George Frederick Ernest Albert. He is the second son of the Prince and Princess of Wales and is just 25 years old. He resembles his father in looks and manners. The queen of the Belgians is a cleve nurse and quite as good as a doctor in emergencies. When one of her servants was stricken with apoplexy recently she applied the correct remedies so promptly and efficaciously as to secure his recovery in a very short time.

HIS FIRST CASE.

A Tale of the Binagram Country, a Bill and Other

There lives in one of the finest counties of Kentucky an aristocratic old gentleman, who, though brave at a time of physical trouble, has never succeeded in enmmoning smakelent courage to shove him into the recklessness of paying a debt. Once the colonel was in debt to a grocer that lived in a neighboring village. He must have been a new comer, for none of the "old-timers" would trust the old gentleman. One morning, just after the colonel had sat down on the gallery to smoke, the grover came to the gate and showed "Hallos!"

"Get down and come right in, suh," the colonel called, getting up and cordially advincing to meet the visitor.

"I am delighted to see you this bright morning," said the host when he had shown the grocer into the house.

"You don't know me, I reckon," the grocer responded, giving the old man a peculiar look out of his keen eyes of

"Oh, most assuredly. You are the grocer.

"You bet. Did you get that bill-or, rather, them twenty bills-I sent your "I presume so, but I cannot say positively who sent them. I get so many favors of the kind that I hardly know whence they come.

"I'm a man of business an' I want my money without any palarverin'. Do you understand?" "Perfectly, suh, and I cannot blame you. Business cannot be operated with-ont money." "But are you goin' to pay me?

"I can't pay you now."

"When can you?" "Let's see; this is the 10th of the month, ain't it?"

"That's what it is." "Ah, ha! and to-morrow will be the 11th."

"That's the size of it." "Well, you come round between the 11th and the first of next month.' "Will you pay me then?"

"No, I don't think I shall." "Then what's the use of my comin?"

"None that I can see." "Not much. What I want is my money, and I'm goin' to have it or know the reason why.

"I don't mind giving you the reason. The reason appears to be that you'll not get the money. Now look here: I have always made it a point to look with favor on the methods of life established by other men. You have your rules, and I have mine, but because our rules differ it is no reason for us to fall out. One of your rules is to collect every cent that is due you. All right. One of my rules is not to pay a cent. All right."

"No. it's not all right; you bet your life it ain't. You've simply got to pony

"By the way, let me give you a piece of advice with regard to that bill. Shall I?"

"Well, then, see me."

"I'll do it; you bet your life on that." The grocer brought suit. The colonel promptly appeared. The case went to trial and the grocer got judgment for $7. "I want my money now," said the

"And I want mine," the colonel re-

"Yours! I don't owe you anything." "Oh, yes. You ser," the old man added, "the courts many years ago granted me license as a lawyer, and I'll be hanged if you haven't given me my first case.

Here is the license. Why. I haven't given you a case. "Oh, yes. I advised you to sue me and you dil ro. My fee is $10." "Idr. Ellings," : aid the judge (and he also owed the grocer), "you will have to pay the amount. He did so, closed his store, shot the judge's cow and ran away.— Arkansaw Traveler.

Supposing a Case.

"It seems to be a perfectly clear case against you," sail the reporter. "Why not make a clean breast of it and let me publich your confession?"

"Confession!" exclaimed the indigment prisoner. "I have nothing to confess. I am an innecent mun, sir! But if -ifs'posin' I did have a confession to make, what's the best figger your paper would pay me fur it?"-Caicago Tribune.

Old Memories.

"No. thank you," she said as her partner offered her the sausage. "I do not eat it for old memory's sake.

"Ah! somebody in a railroad accident?" asked the sympathetic Bixby. "No, but my darling little Fide died yesterday."--Philadelphia Press.

An Honest Man. Bronson-I suppose I may as well charge up that $25 you owe me to profit and loss.

Brokeley-My dear sir, I am a man of honor. I will pay you that money, sir, if I have to steal it. -- Munsey's Weekly.

Large and Sareastic.

Jaysmith (to Miss Laker, of Chicago)-Miss Livewayt is very sarcastic, isn't aher Miss Laker (a rival belle)-Yes: bor mouth is a regular sar-chasm.-Yenowine's News.

vesterday. Mr. Crackers, and paid for them, but you only sent twenty. Mr. Crackers-Wa-al, you see, four of

. NewspaperAACHIVE®

'em was bad; an' I knewed you wouldn't heer for 'em.—Puck.

Newspaper AACHIVE®

ANSWER TO DDITION." 672 159

If you are in search of some place to buy Furniture, and wish to invest your money where you will get full value for it, call on

Wm. FIES,

At his Main street Furniture Store and examine his stock. He has an immense stock to select from and sells same at LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES!

Fice-Kling Block, Marton, Ohio.

MATCH·THE CHICAGO FEAT

Of winning the World's Fair by a greateer feat—winning the custom of the Fair of Marion. If I can win I can hold it by quality and prices.

SOUTH MAIN STREET,

Buy your Coal of Prendergasts

MOM

To do careful and painstaking Paper Hanging and all Interior Decorating. We are now receiving New Specialties in Wall Paper, Room Mouldings, Curtains, Draperies, Etc., to meet the best class of mid-season work.

West Center Street.

CHICAGO LAWN LOTS FOR SALE!

C. F. HALEY,

Box 448, Marion, Ohio.

—Theo. Wooley and wife are at Woodland today visiting with an old army friend of Mr. Wooley's.

The county commissioners were out today inspecting the new Center-

-The announcement that Rev. Yale Sunday was unauthorized by him. Fi fill an appointment.

-Lost-A dog, black and tan Gordon Setter; answers to the name of "Sport;" last seen near the Normal. Anyone returning the animal to H. M.

Stowe will be rewarded. -The county auditor today made licate of 1889. The money is now the final settlement with the treasurer of the June tax collections, on the dupready to be paid out to the corporation, township and school treasuries.

-A very enjoyable reception was given Friday afternoon, from 2 until 5 in honor of the 78th birthday anniversary of Miss Hardy's aunt, Mrs. A. C. Dunlap. About twenty guests were present, mostly members of the aged lady's church. Ice cream and cake were served, and a very pleasant aftermoon was spent. Mrs. Dunlap was the recipient of some handsome presents, the reception was given.

SHUTTING OUT BIRDS' BEST FURNITURE THE STORMY JORDAN down the mountain, carrying bushed

WILLIAM FIES.

Site for the Fair

MARION, OHIO.

and save money. Best Quality.

TOO MANY NAMES.

S. M. Stone, a Man with Five Alianes, Ar rested in This City for Obtaining Money

man, apparently between 40 and 50 years of age, arrived in the city Friday from all parts of the world come to grand. About two oclock it began to night from the west and registered at worship at these shrines. While we rain again and continued until we Hotel Marion as E. Steel. The fellow were traveling through the country reached camp at Jerusalem. was soon recognized by C. E. Wiley, about Jerusalem, people were crowd-found our tents and bedding still wet the ticket broker, as the man with whom he had had dealings before but who sailed under different names. Charley had been keeping a tab on the fellow since April 30, 1888, at which time his suspicions had been aroused. Since that time Stone has stopped at: Hotel Marion at five different times. Dec. 14. '88, he registered as S. M. Anderson; on April 15, '90, as George Collins; July 9,'90, as J. F. Getty; Aug. 15, '90, as G. F. Getty, and Friday evening, as was stated above, as E. Steel. The first dealing Mr. Wiley had with the man was in 1888, when he was subscribed as Stone. At this time he sold a mileage book of the N. Y., P. and O. bearing the name of Geo. O. Price, a traveling man whom Mr. Wiley was acquainted with. The purchaser then in advance of our company, clad in the piece of the stone which closed the AND UPWARD!

Small payments; stolen from Mr. Price at Galion. At long time; beautiful location; rapid growth; value of property increasing rapidly; accessible to three stations of the Grand Trunk: within city limits, only 7 miles southwest of court house. This mileage book was returned all paths. Where our horses climbed or had his suspicions aroused, and afterthe Grand Trunk: within city inmics, only 7 miles southwest of court house; 6% fare from city; 28 trains daily. Lots just laid out on Kedzie avenue to start at $500, which will soon double, as a section line of Chicago is destined to ber, prices are likely to advance soon; at the hotel last night, he was accosted lots on adjoining square just sold for userly double that amount. Will call of the breach of trust in not returning on parties desiring information.

Addieses a constant parties desiring information.

Addiese a constant parties desiring information parties desiring information. had mailed the mileage at Urbana, and after. Often I have shut my eyes from it must have become lost. This was the sight, but felt confident that my hardly probably, however, for it mailed faithful horse would take me safely at Urbana the fellow would have been through. sending back 50 miles that he had paid

The fellow diligently endeavored to explain away ali these suspicious circumstances but did not satisfactorily ed and the streets very narrow, but do so. He tried a series of allegations ville pike in Prospect township. A- and contradictions, but all were in- ited in that country. We were shown bout a mile of the road has been com- effectual. He at one time claimed to a little old stone house where they have a wife and child living at Erie, told us Mary and Martha lived. De-Pa., and said that he represented a would preach at the Baptist church firm of commissioners in hides and were shown the tomb of Lazarus. We pelts, but inquiry discovered the fact lunched at the ancient Kahn of the Rev. Yale has gone to West Point to that there was no such firm at that G od Samaritan, an odd old structure was a Master Mason, but on a private whole day but we journeyed for miles examination, he was not satisfactory. through a wilderness of mud and sand this way he was detected. He was ar-Friday night he went to the water closet with no sign of life except here and rested by Marshal Redd, and then it Hotel Marion and tore up a number | there a little bush, and then down hunof mileage books, just how many is not dreds of feet into the Jordan valley. known, and threw them into the vault. Some of them were secured and are in noon. possession of the officials. Among these could be deciphered one on the Michigan Central, one on the B. and O. and another on the Erie east of Salamanca. C.E. Wiley swore out a warrant for o'clock, at the home of Miss Laura the arrest of the man, and he was taken outside of Jericho and right below us Hardy, on south Main street. It was charge of by constable Jones and placed in the county jail to await a preliminary examination. Since his incarceration, we understand the fellow has given his name as Getty, and says that he at one time lived in New York.

-The friends of Mrs. J. H. Arthur, living on north West street, surprised but were drenched in trying to save it. among them elegant cut flowers, and her Friday night on the occasion of The storm lasted about half an hour notwithstanding her feeble health pro- her birthday anniversary. The lady and was abating when we heard the bably no one enjoyed the occasion more was presented with a handsome oak horn sounding so violently that we all make a short visit with friends. Althan the venerable lady in whose honor rocker. A very pleasant evening is reand the Stormy Banks of the Jordan.

THE PILGR MAGE OF A MARION LADY THROUGH PALESTINE.

Palm Sunday in Jerusalem was a ladies, notwithstanding we had been the protection of a dragoman, venturhill supposed to be Calvary and thence down to Gethsemane, and when we arrived at the historic garden we found the gate locked, and sat down upon about and gave us one of their warlike some large rocks near by to rest and talk over the history of the place and its surroundings. We had, however, brellas and gossomers slept the night no sooner seated ourselves than a away very well. crowd of lepers gathered about us and closely by the hideous outcasts. Towhich are very ancient.

the Jews numbering about half, and party went back to the Dead Sea to Jews are easily recognized by the pellem. As we were leaving we met a culiar way they wear their hair and by large party of pilgrims who had come their pale countenances which are so all the way from Russia to bathe in of Palestine. The Moslems shave their was then in, from the storm, bathing heads except a little patch that is left in it was dangerous, if not impossible. on top, while the Jews let their hair On our way back to Jerusalem we grow low, hanging over their foreheads. lunched again at the Kahn, and thence Arabic is the language chiefly spoken took a different route from the way we in Jerusalem, although many other came, going over mountains and climb languages may be heard there occasion- ing around most terrible precipices, A very presentable appearing gentle- ally. Church, mosque and synagogue having only a narrow bridle path to are within these walls and pilgrims follow each other; but the scenery was ing into the city preparing for Easter and likely to be more so by morning and we not unfrequently met great processions of them. The streets were come 33 miles from Jericho, but after crowded everywhere around the dinner we were soon asleep. During places of worship, and everywhere were the night the rain came down in tortrinket venders ready to pursue us rents and by morning we were all in whenever opportunity offered. In the such a condition that Mr. Crondon United States we have no parallel to ordered us out sight-seeing on foot the beggary and wretchedness in Pales- while he went to see what could be > a Sheikh for a guide. In this way There we found hundreds of worship travelers may go through without being | ing pilgrims from all parts of christen molested. Our Bedowin guide was dom. We were shown into the "chapel quite an impressive figure as he rode of the angels," and were then shown a usual costume of his people, with a

At 9:30 in the morning we came to Bethany, which we found composed of tumbled down stone and mud houses. The houses are all small and flat roofcleaner than in most towns we had visscending steps to another house we of the kind called "inns" in the New As E. Steel represented that he Testament. It rained almost the We reached Jericho late in the after-

> This very ancient place is in ruins, and very little is left of the ruins. Just before we reached our camp, we passed another party encamped in a low valley. We found our tents pitched on one of the highest points just was the brook, Cherith, through which we had just passed in going to our camp, as the bed was dry. We had hardly got to camp when the most severe storm l ever saw came upon us and some of our tents were blown over and others filled with water. We managed to keep our tent from going over and rubbish of all kinds into the dry bed of the stream below us with terific speed. It was a grandly beautiful sight yet we all trembled lest it would overflow us. The flood lasted a couple of hours and then began to fall. We now realized how much there is in that old saying, when anything goes wrong, of "wishing it in Jericho," for here we were with wet clothing, and with tents and beds drenched, and compelled to make the best of it till the next day. But had we encamped bright warm day. In the morning Dr. in the Jordan valley or came through Thomas, of Philadelphia, conducted a it, as some of our party desired, we communion service in the dining tent. would have been drowned, for the flood Immediately after service, a few of the filled the valley. We learned next day that a muleteer and several mules cautioned against going about without | belonging to the party we had passed were drowned. That evening we held ed to walk, without escort, over the a praise meeting, and later had a large camp fire built and set around it drying our clothes and reading. While here about forty Bedowins gathered dances. We soon forgot our misery, watching them and with the aid of um-away very well.

In the morning we started for the almost upon us clamoring for money. Jordan. Our way was over a desert Finding ourselves unable to drive and the storm had made it very mudthem away we threw money into the tin dy and slippery. In places our horses cans which they carried, when they would sink to their knees in the wet went away only to be succeeded by others. The Jordan as we saw it was a ers to whom they had told their good muddy, dirty stream, lined with willow fortune. Thoroughly frightened and and other trees, with no flowers and disgusted we slid down from the rocks but little to make it picturesque. and retreated to the camp, followed But for its history and association it would have been uninteresting. We ward evening we went over to Mount dismonnted and wandered about on Zion and through its burial ground, the "stormy banks." The ground was passing the citadel, which is a stone barren, with only here and there a patch structure with many towers, some of of grass. We brought away with us some bottles of the water of this The population of Jerusalem confamous river. We had seen the Dead ists of Jews, Moslems and Christians, Sea, so while the gentlemen of the nore are going there every year. The bathe the ladies departed for Jerusamuch in contrast to the other people the Jordan. In the condition the river done for us at the hotels. At noon we We were called at day-break on broke camp, some of our party going Monday morning and immediately to the hotels and twenty of us to after breakfast we started for Jericho the monastry where we had a pleasant with a Sheikh, or Bedowin chief, for a home and comfortable quarters for the guide-not that we particularly need- rest of our stay in Jerusalem. Dured a guide, but the Bedowins who ing that rainy forenoon we visited the prowl about the Judean hills are all church of the Holy Sepulchre, the robbers and the only safety is in biring most magnificent attraction of the city door of the sepulchre and on

MARIETTA SEARCH.

A Young Thief. Will Mach, a boy about 16 years of age, whose home is in Cardington and who has been working for T. P. Watkins, was arrested Thursday for the theft of $13.20. Young Mach was about Weiland & Vanatta's stables a great deal, and roomed in the second story of the building, adjoining the room of H. A. Hurd, an employe of Wieland & Vanatta. In passing to and from his room Mach was compelled to pass through the room of Hurd and in doing so took the money from the latter's clothes while the owner was out, Friday morning. The youthful thief then went to Strelitz's clothing store and spent $8 for clothing and in stated that he had found the money. The clothing was returned to Strelitz and the money refunded, Mr. Watkins standing good for the balance of the amount taken. Hurd did not wish to prosecute the case further and the boy was released and he jumped the town Friday night, and has not since been heard from.

-Mrs. D. B. Dorward and daughters. Misses Allie and Gertie, returned Thursday evening from their extended visit through the West, having enjoyed a very pleasant trip.

-A chain connecting one of the weights with the target light at the junction broke Friday night, letting the weight and lantern fall to the ground. Nobody was hurt.

-Charley Berringer, driver of the hose cart, went to Bueyrus today to bert Weber is on as substitute at the We saw a large body of water rushing lengine house.

popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading drug-

We have a nice line of

Of all kinds and styles, at a very low price. Come and see be-

Wall Paper,

Picture Frames. Pictures framed to order on short notice. Hammocks of all kinds, Queensware, Glassware, Etc. All are cordially invited to look at our

W. A. SELLERS & COMP'Y

TULY AND AUGUST Remnant Sale of Wall Paper. All short lengths will be closed out at less than cost for the next sixty days.

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the sys tem effectually, dispels colds, head aches and fevers and cures habitua constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most gists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any fore you buy. It will pay you.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, M.Y.

Union Block, 208 S. Main St. ----ALSO----

Window Shades Curtain Poles, Etc., Pictures,

CUNNINGHAM & STOWE

FITTING! Williams & Leffler,

EADING MERCHANT TAILORS!

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS!

PRICES REASONABLE. A Perfect Fit and Satisfaction Guaranteed.

Don't Contract for Your Supply of

Until you see DEWOLFE. He has the NICEST COAL EVER brought to Marion, and will sell as cheap as the cheapest to good paying customers. DEAD BEATS NOT WANTED.

E. DEWOLFE

BLUE FRONT

Our Mr. W. J. Geiger, firm of Holdstein & Geiger, has just left for New York to purchase a Fall and Winter stock. Our customers and patrons will oblige us much by calling in and seeing our goods, which we will take much pleasure in showing them.

Hats! We have also just received all the latest and the correct styles in Stiffs, Softs and Crushes, on which you will surely save money by buying of us. See our east window display.

P. S.—The Greatest of All! Our entire Summer stock will still go at Reduction Prices-cutting the very bottom out of prices and slashing the very life out of values.

The Blue Front Clothing House

BRYAH, FIELD, BEVER & Go. WOOD WORKING MANUFACTURERS.

TELEMENT CONTRACTING & BUILDING COR CREEN VOCA STIBILISCH A.E. MARION, O. CONTRACTING

BUILDING!

WE MAKE A SPECIALTY

And will furnish Estimates on Short Notice. Do not fail to see us for

Mantles and Fine Interior Finishings! Wood

Doing our own manufacturing we are prepared to please you at

THE LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES. Remember, our office has been removed to our new works, as given above. Open from 7 a.m to 6 p.m

__ Newspaperhhchive®

NewspaperAACHIVE®

THE HAVANA LOTTERY AND "A SURE CARD FOR THE GRAND PRIZE."

Our Own Lettery and Its Chances-On-Prize and a Thousand Blanks-Which Make the Best Wives, Rich Mest's Daughters or Poor Mon's Daughters? [Copyright by American Press American.]

It is an old, old saying that marriage is a loctory, and so it is, for neither man nor woman can possibly know what card he or she has drawn from the pack, shuffied, cut, shuffled again by a mocking and inscrutable fate until their fingers have closed upon one, voluntarily or involuntarily, they never can fully decide which, and the choice made they find themselves possessed of a king, a queen perhaps a knave, or haply only deuce" or "the d-l's bedstead," as I have heard the four of spades dubbed in mock borror and dismay.

Were you ever in a lottery country, Havana, for instance? If so, do you re member the life-and-death interest, the eager conversations, the mysterions hints, the infallible method for selecting the lucky number, that absorbed the minds of all men as the period for drawing the grand prize drew near? Have you not, as you dined in the cafe with es windows open to the plaza been half amused and half annoyed by the paraletent offers of quarter shares, tenth shares, even smaller shares, in some theket more than likely to win the grand seite, and wondered why, this being the case, the swarthy, white toothed and shallet eyed vender didn't keep it all for kinstelf?

A great risk, a perilons venture, and in which many fortunes, great or small, have gone down, for it is a well known statistic that for every success made in a lottery there are some hundreds of failures, and another curious point is that while the successes are generally very transitory the failures are very permanent. I can at this momen of only one man solidly enriched by a prize drawn in a lottery, and I have known of a dozen or more persons, great and small, of both sexes and all ages, who have lost their all and become hopeless or reckless through the intemperate use of lottery tickets.

It is had, very bad, and society looks askince at the man or woman who give: way to vice and brings disaster and annoyance into his or her well bred circles. We don't like intemperate people parading their weakness among us, whether it be for spirits, or opinion, or cards, or lottery tickets.

Indulge in one or all, my friend, if your conscience, your doctor and your purse do not forbid, but dou't bore us with your successes and don't scandalize us with your failures.

"Pay and look pleasant!" is an admira ble rule in all sorts of games of chance or risk, and in no game is it more desirable to follow the maxim than in that of matrimony, for in no game are the stakes higher, the risks more comprehensive, the success more transitory and the failure more ruinous and final than in this game, which, unlike the lottery. is cosmopolitan in its locality and per mitted by the laws of every nation.

One would suppose that a pursuit s dangerous, and against which so many voices have been raised, waters so difficult of navigation that their shores are strewn with wrecks, and their rocks and shoals provided with bell buoys, whose doleful dirges sound across the waves in somber and unheeded tones, would become disused and forsaken: that the game would be voted not worth the can-dle and stricken off the fashionable list, that the waters would be marked by a glowing beacon spelling Dangerous: and forevermore avoided by all prudent mariners: but al as well hope that the moths would hold a general convention and resolve not to fly into candles any more, or that the Andover controversy would end in peace and good will and universal brotherhood.

People may learn much from the schools and a little from the experience of those who have gone before, but one thing they have not yet learned, and I greatly fear never will learn, and that is to abstain from buying tickets in the great matrimonial lottery, conducted under government anspices and parronized by the royalty, nobility and gentry of the civilized world!

Well, then, messicurs et mesdames having warned you and perceiving, not at all to my surprise, that you decline to accept my warning, my next and most philanthropic effort is to give you my ideas upon the lucky number, to mini mize the risk and to offer you not a tenth, not a quarter, but a whole ticket, without money and without price, and sure to win the grand prize!

Do you ask me, as I did the white toothed, sharp eved and swa, the Spaniard, why, having the knowleage sure to lead to wealth, I do not myself utilize it?

I will answer as he did, " whore, I had rather enrich you than my- if?" Well, then, ladies hast

You mean to marry, if you can, and you wish to have a happy in crite in hie. and you want to know the rease. It is just this-expect nothing at all and accept as a joyful surpriso whatever good you find in matrimony.

Keep your temper under all circum stances, even when you exhibit it treely. Learn to hold your tongue. Never tell your mother

These and the cultivation of a few other virtues, such as a expansiv for keeping account of your expenses, main silence thereto, these will insure. I think, as comfortable a condition of matrimony as most women enjoy; but, as you will ber; this is not showing you how to infallibly dray the grand prize and enrich you can't choose? That is one of the few | could, and a hidden and un nafeword drawbacksto being a woman; you are to gratitude that you should have combe conjugated and conjugated atted in the her rather than the humining bird. passive voice, whose sym ... is to suf-

They may every woman has at least once in her life a chance to marry. Idon't many women have two or three chances, and their liberty is to choose among these, just as a lard field by one leg has a chance to jeck at two or three different weeds, but no more. Women must wait to be asked, and have only the privilege of refusing Mr. Wrong without that of inviting Mr. Wright, unless by some wastful glance, some tremulous tone, some subtle magnetism they can convey an unspoken meaning which as a general thing they would, die rather

But you, lords of creation, you who have only, as you believe, to ask and to have; you who are wont to declare that you would gladly exchange single blessedness for married misery if only you could find the right sort of a girl (nothing doubting, of course, that she would have you)-it is to you that I am about to "give the office;" it is to you I will reveal the secret of the lucky number, and tell you just where among the blushing ranks of maidenhood to throw the hand kerchief, and which one of a thousand ily in one hand and the certificates of a aspirants to make happy, though she mount to her throne over nine hundred and ninety-nine bleeding h-arts.

Choose-but no! I had forgotten that I do not know exactly whom I am addressing: and although there is a touch ing uniformity among the young men of my immediate circle, this letter will be printed in other places than New York, and I dare say slight variations of the type "young man" may be found under different circumstances than those around us in the metropolis. So I really cannot give the clear and simple advice I was about to offer to my compatriots whom I know so well, for it might turn out, as in the case of a dear old Scotch lady I heard of, who, finding some medicines not used after her husband's death, consumed them gradually and indiscriminately in her household lest "money's worth should go to waste." The vial I had aiready tipped up does not contain a panacea, so instead of ad ministering it I will generalize a little and sav:

Choose if you can a girl brought up in your own sphere, and accustomed to no greater luxury than you are modestly sure of being able to give her.

If she has been used to dainties and more luxurious surroundings than satis fied your sisters and consins don't flatter vourself that any amount of love is gone to take their place in the long run; an if she has been coarsely bred, and you place her among luxuries, she will probably over value them and become a snob and very extravagant, or she will not fit herself to her surroundings, and like the very weak young woman married by the Lord of Burleigh, fret herself, not to death, but into dyspensia, in trying to accommodate herself to "An honor unto which she was not born."

A nice boy, who has unfortunately in herited just enough money to keep hun in gilded idleness, asked me the other day what sort of girl he ought to marry, and I promptly told him to select the daughter of a man just rising from the ranks and not yet rich.

"But, madame, I like women born i: the purple, and as dainty as humming birds!" remonstrated he with an injured look. "Of course you do, dear child, and they like you," replied I. "But one of these human humming birds is more expensive to keep than an ostrich, and not half so remunerative. She has been all her life accustomed to honey suckles full of honey blooming at her feet, and she basks in the sunshine and perishes in the storm. Her constant wear is a fabric choicer than any Worth could supply, and her e traditional Sh how to live in any way but that in which she has been born and bred, and the world she ornaments does not desire that she should. "You admire her, of course, and sympathize with her, for you are somewhat in the same line yourself, but you have not an unlimited fortune and you have no power of making it larger. You two together would be absurdly happy and charming to behold for one sweet sum mer day, and then when the night fell and the cold wind and heavy rain came you would shiver together for awhile then fall to pecking each other's eye out, and hually either die or distress kindly but impatient world with th speciacle of bedraggled, helpless, crip pled humming birds, no longer orna mental, and not in the least useful except as a warning."

But I can marry money. Some hum ming birds are very well provided for "Yes, you can marry money, and hy in your wife's house, and eat your wife bread, and drive in her carriage when she goes down to collect her days leads for her fond papa, who probably has made his own money, will take very good care to prevent you from a making an of it. Your fingers are too taps rear and smooth and soque to keep a good grast of bank bells soiled by the grune and swear of labor.

a girl was from her is, may to set to long a per the loss assessment weight that a fell a consequence of an increase of a number, particularly to assembled to the his as own as de draining the same in hotel or boarding the daugnter of a rem who as make of house softime, that of the neatest little money and goods to be rather than hot police above is a talet or comboand yet made it nor got become parties bruse big. Two pieces of buon are cut the greatest of case. It was a formation own ledgers, of a motor of the continuous accordance to the continuous accor ly striving to minimal and a local an appropriate patern and a limit of sweets formed the men desested their have nearly noticed in the word of the words, retired and wheeled into line, and will take poss soler of you is I your safe way of norly it posing of the neclittle mecone and make the vary ost of soary comband brasa, protecting them I know it; but, unfortunately, don't both. She will been a sort of a amount on from dust, and also from the use of inyou see it would be of no use to you, for of you that the humming basi never truders and trespassing maid servants.

"Then in the later days, when the storm and the night have fallen and those unhappy humming birds begin to peck each other's eyes out, your father în-law, having mede a big fortune, will quite believe that, but I do think a good die, leaving a good share to your wife, and your old age will be as comfortable as a fine lady's cut's."

"Thanks awfully—I'm sure," drawled my friend, but although he didn't like it I hear he is not always to be met with in the gilded salons of Murray Hill and I fancy be is making calls in less fashionable localities.

Now if the son of that self made of self making father had come to me with the same query I should have said:

"Wait until you have half a million dollars, with the determination to make it into ten millions and to stick to business until you do, and then marry the well born, well bred daughter of a family who 'has seen better days,' but still carries its head as high as ever.

"She will spend your money, but sh will do it to your advantage, for she will make of it a ladder over which you will accompany her into that region where 'the four hundred' sit as gods on Olym pus, and make things very pleasant to visitors who come with a patent of 'famgood deal of money in the other."

If I had more time and room nothing would please me more than to dilate upon this topic, but, both failing, here must stop.

Paris Fashions.

The new fall dress goods are already being made up. The newest fancies are at Virginia in entirely novel English cheviots and City in plaids, with black crystallette for young 1881: was ladies. The cheviots are nearly all in elected sugray of different shades, and gray will preme repbe the fashionable color this season, with resenta-BLACKMER. some drab and some faded indigo blues in broken plants in large patterns. The cheviots come in diagonal stripes, each stripe made of a cluster of smaller ones. all in one shade, but with high luster. tended every session This is so elegant and fine that it re- of the supreme lodge from that time. He quires little garmture.

The middle robe in the illustration is made of gray diagonal cheviot, with a pulled out fringe of the same at the an underskirt of black velutina. The sleeves made of the same material show that velvet sleeves will still be a feature. The dainty gown on the right is of light gray twilled camel's hair cheviot Dr. Desaguliers on the 5th November, 1737. closely woven, and the skirt to this is His brother, the Duke of Cumberland, was made with a flounce, and the skirt and i flounce both have a pattern of dark gray silk and chenille embroidery. Most fall gowns will have a foot trimming of some kind.

FALL STYLES.

The robe for the young lady is of fine black crystallette, with bias bands and trimming of French plaid in blue and green with lighter over pattern.

Plaid goods in Scotch designs will be more worn than they have been for and succe more worn than they have been for many years, and for young people they will be equally popular with the cheviots brothers, the Dukes of York, of Clarence and crystalette. This latter is now (William IV) and of Kent, were made made in all silk and mohair in heavy in 1787, 1786 and 1790, the latter qualities, suitable for outdoor winter at Geneva. The Duke of Kent played wear. For elderly or young people of a prominent part as grand master of the quiet taste it will be trimmed with rival grand lodge at the union of 1813. All black or colored velvet, but the young will prefer the pland combination.

Handsome Tollet Rag. (Copyright by American Press Association) -----

No, my dear boy, the wate for yours | The boatter of the fores and bazar to in her ways perhaps as yet a consequence of accession to the control parcos has emment commander. When the letters rough Such and in a new Alersons of some water tape in mich aging servants, punctuality and careful a good schooled a.w. of will is straight south page two mets to their emine a minimar, who rebut economical breaktast toucts, with stall music, will be every still make about the top. The two parts turned the salute colorensiass that the lessers cost after a long ther of a single binding goal deal of money and another of top sate. I mound the whole. A of England, had erected a prove sage wasted, will know the cost of goal narr with a tree is passed through the room at the back of his dwelfar. There very truly say, this is not giving you the clothes and the near say of a risming rasing to but the little but together. Hang tanguishens, Out, on either say a secret of how to select the lineky number them, will severy unclose t social this little property of the property for a many them. an cess and u t rove worders for it, nook near the bureau, and it is a very

EMMA MOFFETT TYNG.

SECRET SOCIETY NEWS.

DOINGS OF THE DAY IN LODGE ROOM AND CASTLE HALL Sketches and Portraits of the St.

Elected Supreme Officers of the Knights of Pythias George B. Shaw, Col. Morrison and E. T. Blackmer.

One remarkable feature of the recent cesion of the supreme lodge, Knights of Pythias, at Milwaukee was the fact that two of the suprems officers elected are Californians. The Pythian Triangle Record describes them in this way:

George B. Shaw, the new supreme chan-cellor, was born in Alma, Alleghany coun-ty, N. Y., March 12, 1854. He became an active member of the order during its infancy in Wisconsin, being initiated in Eau Claire lodge, No. 16, of Eau Claire, of which he is still a member. He was elected grand prelate of the grand lodge of Wisconsin In 1876, grand chancellor in 1977, supreme representative in 1978, supreme inner guard in 1880, supreme master at arms in 1892 and e-elected in 1984, and in 1897 the grand odge of Wisconsin again elected him supreme representative. Bro. Shaw was elected supreme vice chancellor in 1888. Col. Morrison was born in Calais, Me., Nov. 8, 1943, and emigrated to California in 1869, and in 1864 removed to Nevada. He became early identified with the K. of P. in that state, represented Mystic lodge, No. 3, at the grand son, 1876; was elected cellor at the nual session of the grand lodge of Novada, held tive to the supreme lodge at the tenth annual session of the grand lodge at Carson in 1882, and bas at-MORRISON. was elected inner guard of the supreme lodge in 1888 at Detroit, and appointed aide-de-camp with the rank of colonel on the staff of Maj. Gen. Carnahan in 1886. At the recent session he was elected suprem

The new supreme prelate, Col. E. T. Blackmer, is of Wisconsin. He was made a knight in Welcome lodge, No. I, Chicago, in 1871. In 1873 he became a charter member and first chancellor commander of Imperial lodge, Chicago. He has taken a deep interest in Pythianism, and was largely instrumental in forming San Diego lodge, No. 28. In 1876 he was elected grand prelate, and advanced each session to grand vice chancellor and grand chancellor. In 1880 he was elected supreme representative and elected again in 1886 for four years, commencing January, 1888. In October, 1883, Chevalier, No. 6, of the Uniform Rank, was instituted at San Diego, and he was lected first lieutenant commander and he following year sir knight commander In October, 1886, he was elected colonel of the Third regiment of the California bri-

MASONIC.

Dates of Initiation of the Royal Masous. Items of Interest.

Frederick Lewis, Prince of Wales, was initiated at a special lodge held at Kew by initiated in 1743. The Dukes of York, of Cumberland (grand master in 1782) and of Gioncester, sons of the Prince of Wales. were made respectively in 1765, 1767 and 1766 (the first of the three at Berlin), and were all granted the rank of P. G. M. of England in 1767. The Duke of Gloucester, son of the last named, was admitted in 1795 and made P. G. M. in 1796. George IV, then Prince of Wales, was initiated by his nucle, the Duke of Cumberland, 1787, three were granted the rank of past grand master. Another brother, Duke of Cumberland, afterward king of Hanover, was initiated in 1796, received the usual rank of a P. G. M., and from 1828 till his death in 1851 was grand master of the grand lodge of Hanover. His son George V of Hanover was initiated at Hanover in 1857, succeeding him as grand master, and ruled both the grand lodge and the kingdom till the Prussians abolished the one and the other in 1866. Finally the Duke of Sussex, another brother of George IV, was initiated at Berhn in 1798, was deputy grand master of England in 1812, and in 1813 became grand master till his death in 1848.-Masonic Review.

As in England and Germany, it appears that in Mexico the most prominent government officeholders are almost all members of some of the various Masonic lodges. The Germans in the City of Mexico bave a blue lodge, while of the other foreign colonies the Italians and French have lodges of their own, where the work is done in the respective native language of the members. Freemasonry in the republic has advanced as rapidly as any other intellectual institu-The Albany Argus, in a description of a series of evolutions made by Paestine Commandery of New York city, sa some of the last movements was very de hoult, but was accomplished, app. ... with awards, retired and wheeled into line, and the swords then formed the tire" When in line they do led to a hel-The late Capt Hoar, of the rovin payr

a grave had been prepared for but a last aged wife, and in one of which a sire mans were deposited. These to walled masoury and preparation in 1888. His casket was cak, manufactured under his ; pervision and kept in his private during the last filters years.

L O. O. F.

Average Cost of Membership Per Year. Other Notes. Bro Charles H. Gard, of Chicago, per year is as follows in the various jurisdictions: Washington, $27.33, Denmark, $26 12: Arizona, $28.85: British Columbia, $20.22; California, $19.27: Idaho, $19.30; Utah, $18.75; Nevada, $18.45; Texas, $18.15 Oregon, $15.05; Montana, $17.80; Quebec, $17.69; Switzerland, $15.60; Rhode Island $15 %; Delaware, $14.88; New Mexico, $13.90; District of Columbia, $12.65; Dakota, $12.29 Manitoba, $11.19; New Jersey, $10.88; Colo rado, $10.96, Minnesota, $10.83; Wyomins $10.57; Louisiana, $10.32; West Virginia $10.25; Indiana, $10.38; Ontario, $0.96 Pennsylvania, $9.33; Illinois, $9.46; Connecticut, $9.39; Massachusetta, $9.30 New York, $9.18; Mississippi, $9.14. Ohlo, $9.12; Nebraska, $6.93; Virginia, $8.73; Tennessee, $6.23; Wisconsin, $6.13. Kansas, $3.11; Florida, $8.01; Alabama, $8. North Carolina, $7.54; Maine, $7.20; Mary land, $7 09; Georgia, $7 05; Arkansas, $7.0: New Hampshire, $6.94; Missouri, $6.96; South Carolina, $6.37; Vermont, $6.05; Ken-tucky, $5.90; Michigan, $5.76; lower provinces of British North America, $5.64; Iowa $5.37. There is a difference of $31.96 be tween the amount paid by each member per year in Washington and the amoun paid per year by each member in lows. Mr. Gard makes the total membership 582,306, the total moneys paid in to the lodges a revenue from all sources per year $5,727, 568.31 and the average per member $9.83.

In Missouri the amount of sick benefits just one-half the annual dues.

There are now about forty-five Odd Fel lows' insurance companies. The income last year approximated $1,669,023,97.

A lodge was recently instituted in San Jose, Cal, in which the charges in the initiation were given in the Norwegian lan guage.

The Odd Fellows' Temple association, o Chicago, has been incorporated to erect a temple in Chicago; capital, $500,000. In addition to the lodge rooms there will be large auditorium that will accommodate 10,000 people. Office rooms will also be arranged for, and it is the intention of the association to make it t · fluest temple in the country. The new mailding will cost about $1,000,000.

A lodge in Maryland recently divided its ssets among its members, amounting to $50 or more each. One brother refused to accept his share, and for his loyalty to the order in so doing a gold medal was pre sented to him by order of the grand lodge

A. O. U. W.

An Interesting Decision Recently Handed Down in Iows.

The supreme court of lowa recently handed down an opinion in the Philips life insurance case which is of interest every member of the A. O. U. W. At the time of his death Dr. I. H. Philips held an insurance certificate in the A. O U. W. fo $2,000, which was payable to his "legal heirs." He left surviving him a widow and one miner daughter. The widow con-tended that she was entitled to at least one-third of the life insurance. disputed by the guardian of the daughter and one-half of the money was by agree-ment placed in the bands of the clerk of the district court, until the controversy should be determined in the courts. widow then brought suit against the guardian and the clerk of the court for money thus deposited. The case was tried by Judge Preston in um below the grade line and also have a December, 1888, and he decided that when a child or children of the deceased survived the widow was not a "legal heir" of her husband, and consequently not entitled to any of the money in controversy. Mrs. Philips appealed from the decision to the supreme court. The court of last resort rendered an opinion affirming the decision of the court below, thus granting all of the insurance money to the daughter Many policies are worded as was Dr. Phil ips', and this decision may cause a general overbauling.

Notes.

The example of Industry lodge No. 2, of Wilmington, Del., might be followed to advantage by every lodge in the country At every meeting during its nine years of existence at least one essay, lecture or debate has enlivened the proceedings, and not long ago a nucleus for what will undoubtedly grow into a valuable lodge library was obtained. By furchase and donation from members and friends more than 400 volumes have been gathered and placed in the lodge antercom. Bro. W. H Sincock is the librarian.

The largest A. O. U. W. lodge in the world is Detroit lodge, No. 6, Detroit Mich., which at the meeting on April 18 at Beecher's Hall initiated 273 members, making a total membership of nearly 1,600, thereby capturing the banner broom of the state of Michigan.

The Minnesota juri-diction continues to increase her membership, and will soon have over 10,000 workmen.

Knights of St. John of Jerusalem. The New York Herald says: About this time of year the "Kuights of St John of Jerusalem are holding their annual conclaves all over Europe. It is a creditable thing for men to associate themselves to gether in order to relieve the sick and wounded, but why should they call them selves by a name to which they have no right? The order of the Knights of St John still exists and has its headquarters and its grand masters in Rome, but the modern English or German Knight of St. John has no possible connection with the order.

A dozen gentlemen may form themselves into a charatable society and call them selves "Knights of St John" if they encose but that does not make them members o the oldest order of charalry in existence. They are no more Kn abts of St John than the respectable grocers who call themselves "Knights Templar" in America are gen uine Knights of the Temple. The Order of the Knights of St John cannot be "revived" by any sovereign or legislature without the concurrence of the grand mas ter of the order at Rome

Ancient Order of Patriciaus The constitution is issued and is not ready for distribution state in the interest of the order en des are under way in California, Ohio, Massachusetts, New York and other Guardian Endowment Society.

Just 1.723 certificates have been issued during the six months previous to July L. Order of Ægis.

The order numbers 98 lodges and 7,600 members and is still whooping.

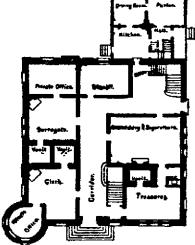

TOWN HALL AND COURT HOUSE.

Building Saliable for B Large Town or Small City.
This building was designed for a small city, which was the espital or county seat Bro Charles H. taru, or convey of the city, which was the espiral or county was prepared an interesting statement for The of a county in central Texas, where it was defined to concentrate all the town offices. with courts and jail. The first story con-tains an office for the sounty clerk, treas-urer, surrogate, sheriff, grand jury and supervisors' room, with fire proof vaults for the treasurer's, clerk's and surrogate's offices; sheriff's residence, a spacious hall or convider with two grand stringers lead or corridor, with two grand staircass leading to the floors above. In the second story are the court room, judges' room room for the petit jury, halls and consults tion room. In the third story is a large essembly hall with ante-rooms which i used for town meetings, etc., or it could be divided into offices if desired.

The basement story contains the jail, and is provided with thirteen light and three dark cells, with corridors, water closets, halls, kitchen and store room. The outside walls of the basement are built of stone two feet thick, laid in Portland cement; of regular coursed rubble, with steel bands or hoops inlaid in every course to prevent cutting through the walls in case an attempt should be made. The floor of the jail is of concrete com

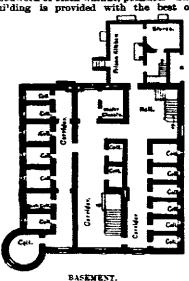

FIRST STORY. posed of a mixture of Portland cement small stone and coarse gravel, put down in two layers each six inches thick, as fol lows: Precautions are taken to secure good drainage, then the bottom is well rammed and packed and the first layer of concrete put down. Over this first laver of concrete is a coating of asphaltum, over which the second layer of concrete is put down. The floors of the cells are flagge the ontside walls are coated with asphalt hed of the first course of concrete

SECOND STORY.

The windows are protected by heavy bars of chilled iron, and the doors are of oper iron work, heavily constructed, and fur nished with the most improved locks and fastenings. The department for desperate criminals is provided with cells lined with steel plates. The walls of the building above the basement are of brick, faced with stone. The walls inside are finished off and plastered in three coats, the last coat of best finishing hime, putty and plas ter of paris, with molded cornices, center pieces, etc., walls and ceilings frescoed. The floors are of oak and all other inside woodwork of black walnut, polished. The bui'ding is provided with the best of

The director general is traveling in the plumbing, open fire places, with grates as indicated, complete, heaters with steam indicated, complete, heaters with steam heat and ventilated by the range system of ventilation. The roof is covered with slate. The effect of the building is pleas ing and appropriate in appearance, and would be an ornament to any city or town. The cost of such a structure would be from $25,000 to $30,000. DAVID W. KING.

"What's the time, Bridget?"

"Oi dunno. The clock shtopped an hour sen."-Puck.

SHE WAS POISONED Not by anything she drank or by had blood. Is it any feels "blue?" In most cases blue only another name for bad blood. or woman feels unhappy. Life dark. The heart is heavy. Bad carrying its poison all over the bou, we call it "blues." Read these experiences:

Mrs. C. C. Hutchinson, of Pittston, 188: "I consider Dr. Acker's Eng." says: "I consider Dr. Acker's Eng.".
Blood Elixir the best medicine in Lt. world, not only for blood troubles, but also for dyspensia, with which I have been afflicted."

been afflicted."

"Both my wife and myself firmly believe that Dr. Acker's English Blood Elixir is the best of all blood medicines, and will remove all impurities of the blood."

GEO. V. SUGRES, Valley City, Dak.

This grand Elixir is sold by druggists in all parts of America. It is a pure, bonest medicine; not a cheap sattaparills. Try it to-day.

For Sale by HOBERMAN & CO. and W. B. FOYE.

94 Miles the Shortest
And the Quickest!

Uincinnati to New Orleans. Time 27 Hours. Entire Trains, Bag-gage Car, Day Coaches and Sieepers run through without change.

110 Miles the Shortest 7 Hours the Quickest!

Cincinnati to Jacksonville.

Fla. Time 27 Hours. The only line running Solid Trains and Through Sleeping Cars. Only line from Cincianati to Chatanooga, Tenn.; Ft. Payhe, Ala: Meridian, Miss: Vicksburg, Miss.; Shreveport, La. 20 Miles Shortest Cincinnati to Lexington, Ky.; 5 Hours Quickest Cincinnati to Knoxville, Tenn.; 116 Miles Shortest Cincinnati to Atjanta and Augusta. Ga.: 114 Miles Atlanta and Augusta, Ga.; 114 Miles Shortest Cincinnati to Auniston, Ala.; 26 Miles Shortest Cincinnati to Birming-ham, Ala.; 15 Miles Shortest Cincinnati to Mobile, Ala. Direct connections at New Orleans and Shreveport for

Texas, Mexico and California! Trains leave Central Union Depot, Cincinnati, crossing the Famous High Bridge of Kentucky, and rounding the base of Lookout Mountain.

Pullman Boudior Sleepers
On All Through Trains [Over One Million Acres of Land in Alabama, the future Great State of the acama, the future Great State of the South, subject to pre-emption, and the Climate is Unsurpassed For Rates, Maps, Etc., address NEIL C. KERR, Central Passenger Agent, 94 West Fourth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

C. C. HARVEY, D. G. EDWARDS Gen'l Manager, Gen. Pass & Tkt. Age.

CHILD BIRTH EASY
CHILD BIRTHENS
LESSENS PAIN LABOR
DIMINISHES DANGER TO LIFE OF BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO. ATLANTA CA

CLIPPER

H. O. HOBERMAN & CO.

W. Ayres & Sons, Philadelphia. Sold by all dealers.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE STAR AND KEEP POSTED ON THE NEWS,

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

NEWSPAPERANCHIVE®.

A Phrilling Army Romance of the Western Prontier.

By GAPT. GHARLES KING, U. S. A.

(Copyrighted by J. B. Lippincott Company, Philadelphia and published through special arrangement with the Ameri can Press Association.)

[CONTINUED FROM LAST SATURDAY'S EDITION.]

CHAPTER VIII. Vincent is, Amos!" said Mr. Noel gning, as the consins were quietly isting together before going down atty? yes," said Amos, doubtfully. jook here, my bey; recollect that want to think of something more on pretty in selecting a wife while you are in here on this detail. Now, Mrs. Withers and I have been keeping our eyes open, and our ears, too, for that matter; the fact is, I always have both eyes and ears open-travel with them that way, sleep with them that way. I would not be the man I am in the business world. Noel, if that weren't the case. And, pretty though Miss Vincent may be, she's not the girl for you to waste your time on.

"But why not?" asked Noel. "They have a magnificent home, and everything about it indicates wealth and refinement and culture; and there is no denying that she is one of the most attractive girls in society in this city; certainly I have seen none whom I have admired more."

That very morning Gordon Nocl was pre sented to Reginuld Vincent.

"That is all very true, perhaps," was the reply: "but her father was very badly bitten during that wheat corner last month, and in fact he has been losing heavily for the last two years. Warden, who is his broker on 'Change, let it leak ont in more ways than one; and that wife of Warden is a regular scandal monger-she can't help talking, and everything she manages to extract from him in the way of information goes broadcast over the entire city. Of course, when the corner broke, as it did, old Vincent managed to pull out of it without alsolve loss of his homestead and his entire business. But the rally came only in the nick of time. I am told that Warden has said that if wheat had gone nponec or higher it would have knocked Vincent out of time: he never could have come to again. Gordon Noel, we have another plan for you. Wait until Ned Terry's sister gets back from the east; between her and her brother they have just about as much money invested in the best paying business in this town as any people that I can possibly name. She's a belle: she's just as pretty as Miss Vincent She isn't as smart, perhaps, but she is a woman worth cultivating. Now, hold your horses. Where did you meet her, by the way?

"I first met her at the Thorntons' dinner party She was there with Capt. Lane, and some other young people whom I had not previously met.

"Oh. yes, tout reminds me. It seems your friend Lane was very much smitten. in that quarter. Now, you'd much better let him carry off Miss Vincent, if he can. She would suit his modest views of life very well. But I don't believe the girl has a tempy to her fortune; at least she certain'y won't if Vincent has no more luck in the future than he has had in the

"I took her down to dinner." said Noel, thoughtfully, "and I remember that she talked a good deal about the army, and asked a great many questions about the cavalry. Now that you speak of it. I noticed that Lane, who sat on the opposite side of the table, didn't seem to particularly interested in the lady whom he was escorting, although, of course, he had to be civil and tried to keep up a conventation, but every now and then I would catch him looking at us, and particularly at her. But she looked so pretty that I didn't wonder

"When did you next soe her?" said

Withers. "Only last night. You know, I was called away almost immediately after the Thornton affair, and had to go on to New York on the court martial, where I was summoned as a witness, then only got back in time for the party last night. That was my second meeting with her, and by this time Lane had gone out to join the regiment. I didn't even have a chance to say good-by to him. Do you think, really, that he was smitten in that quarter? "That's what I certainly heard," said Withers; "and as soon as you get to know young people in society. I venture to say that you can readily fin I out all about it. These girls all know one another's secrets, and are generally wetly ready to tell them. That's the no Enlt of my experience." It was evident that Amos Withers' consin was not to be neglected in the Queen City. Two parties at private houses, a reception at the club and three dinners were the invitations which he an nour was occupied in acknowledging and accepting or declining, as happened to be the case, these evidences of hospitality; then, having no especial interest in the morning paper, his thoughts again reverted to what Mr. Withers had been telling him about Miss Vincent, and the possible relation between her and his regimental comrade. He had been very much impressed with her the night before. Her beauty was of such a rare and radiant character, she was so genial and unaffected in her manner, so bright and winning, with such an evident liking for his society, that Mr. Noel had come away flattering himself that he had made in this quarter a most fa-vorable impression. He had thought of her very much as he went home from the larly glad on Miss Mabel's account. And party—of her interested face, as he talked or danced with her; and she danced delightfully, and was so good as to say that his step perfectly suited hers. He remembered now, too, her remark that it was so delightful to dance with army officers and graduates of the Point; they all seemed to feel so thoroughly at home on the floor.

Noel was not a graduate of the Point by any means; but he saw no reason for disenchanting her on that score. He good as any or the West Pointers, in his own opinion, and in society was very much more at home than many of their number. As a dancer, he was looked upon in his regiment and throughout the cavalry as one of the most accomplished in the whole service. And all this interest and all this cordiality he had accepted without hesitation as a tribute to his own superior qualifications and attractiveness. It was therefore with a feeling akin to pique that he heard of this possible engagement existing between her and Capt. Lane.

In all the Eleventh cavalry there was no man whom Gordon Noel feared and possibly hated more than he did Capt. Lane. This arose from the fact that Lane as adjutant of the regiment had seen all the communications that passed from time to time relative to Noel's absence from his command when his services were most needed and when any man of spirit would have taken every possible precaution to be with it. He knew how silent Lane had always been. and how thorough a custodian of regimental secrets he was considered. But all the same the mere fact that Lane knew all these circumstances so much to his disadvantage, and had seen all his lame and impotent excuses, had made him fear him as a possible enemy and hate him simply because he stood in awe

No one, to watch Noel in society or in the presence of his brother officers, would suppose for a moment that he looked upon Lane with other than feelings of the warmest regard and comradeship. It was only in his secret thoughts, which he admitted to no soul on earth, that Noel realized what his real feelings were towards a man who had never done him a wrong, but who had treated him on all occasions, public and private, with courtesy and consideration.

For some reason or other the lieutenant felt restless and dissatisfied this morning. The atmosphere of the office was decidedly uncongenial. He was a man who rarely read anything, and to whom letter writing was a bore. To be sure, he had little of it to do, for no man in the regiment had expressed a desire to hear from him. It was a hot. sultry day; the stylish white flannel suit in to me I i are heard once or twice that! which he had arrayed his handsome self was wasting its elegance on the desert air of a bare and empty room, instead of being seen in the boudoirs of beauty or the billiard rooms at the club. Business was slack; no recruits were coming in, and Mr. Noel could stand it no longer. A ring from his bell summoned the sergeant to the room.

> "There doesn't seem to be any likelihood of recruits coming in such a day as this, sergeant," said Mr. Noel. "I'm going up to the club for a while: if anvbody should come in send one of the men up there for me: I'll return at once.' And with that he took his straw hat and light cane and strolled leisurely up the street. His was a figure that many a man-and more women-would turn to look at more than once. Tall, slim, ele gant in build, always dressed in excellent taste, Gordon Noel in any community would have been pronounced a remarkably presentable man. His face, as has been said, was very fine; his eyes dark and handsome, shaded by deep, thick lashes: his hair dark and waving: his mustache, dark and drooning, serv ed only to enhance the brilliancy of the even white teeth that flashed underneath it in his frequent smiles and joyous laughter. One would say, in looking at Noel, that he was a man of singularly sunny disposition; and so he was, and so they found him at the club; and so the loungers there hailed him with jovial shouts as he entered; for, though only .. fortnight had elapsed since his arrival and four days of that time he had been absent, giving his testimony before the court martial in New York harbor, he had nevertheless won his way into the hearts of all the young fellows around the club, and no more popular man than Gordon Noel had ever come within the

"What are you going to have, old man? was the first question asked, and Noel laughingly ordered a sherry cobbler, saying the day was far too hot for doors of "The Queen City."

"Who's that I just saw going into the billiard room? he asked.

you met him yet?"

"Regy Vincent," said Nocl. "Is h the brother of the Miss Vincent whom I met at the party last night?" "The very same," was the reply. "Mighty bright fellow, too, and a very jolly one; though he has been in hard luck of late." "How in hard luck?" asked a quiet looking man seated in a big arm chair, lowering for a moment the newspaper which he had been reading.

"Well, through his father's ill luck on Change. You all know, of course, that Vincent was nearly busted before that corner went under last week."

"I know this," was the calm reply, that while he did stand for a few days on the ragged edge, and while it may be that had that corner not broken when it did he would have been in sore straits. in some way he or his partner, Clark came to taw with additional funds, and had the consummate pluck to put up more at the very moment when it was believed that that syndicate was going to have everything their own way. So far from being baily bitten by that deal, it's my belief that Vincent. Clark & Co. came out of it with a very pretty penny to the good." "Well, of course, Harris, you must know more about it than I do. But you cannot be gladder than I am to hear that Vincent's status is so much better than we supposed. I'm glad on his account, I'm now I'm particularly chuckling over Billy Rossiter's frame of mind when he hears the real truth of this matter. When he went after her to Rome last year, and everybody supposed that Vinwas worth a million, there's po doubt in the world that he did his best to win her, and that was what he was sent abroad by his father to do. But he didn't win her then, for she strenuously genied any engagement when she came back here; yet it was supposed that if he persevered his chances would be good. Why, he's not half a bad fellow, only he can't marry so long as he is in his fa-ther's employ and dependent on him, unless he marries according to his father's wishes; and the old man called him off just as soon as he found out that Vincent was on the verge of failure. Billy Rossiter has lost any chance that he might have had in that quarter, for she'll never look at him again.

"Serve him right, if that be the case. Any man who hasn't sense enough to stick to a girl who is bright and pretty as Mabel Vincent, rich or poor, deserves no luck at all in this world. But that reminds me, Capt. Noel, according to rumor and what the girls say in society -and you know they generally know pretty much everything that is going on there is something more than a mere understanding between her and your predecessor here, the recruiting officer, Capt. Lane. Did he say anything about it to you?"

"No, not a word. I think, though, that had there been anything in the story Lane would have let me know something about it, for we are very old and intimate friends. Did you say that that was Mr. Reginald Vincent who has just gone into the billiard room?"

"Yes," answered Mr. Morris, "that's Would you like to know him?" "Very much indeed; and if you've nothing better to do come in and present me. Perhaps he will want to play a game of billiards, and if so I'm his

And so it happened that that very morning Gordon Noel was presented to Reginald Vincent, and when Regy went home to luncheon he spoke enthusiastically of his new found acquaintance, whom he pronounced to be one of the most delightful fellows he had ever met anywhere, and who was such a warm nd devoted friend of Capt. Lane. "I rant, if I meet him this afternoon, as I robably shall, to bring him back to ner, and invite a few friends to meet him?" asked Mrs. Vincent. "Your father, perhaps, would like to be consulted in the matter. Ive no doubt that he would like to do something to show attention to any friend of Capt. Lane. What do you think, Mabel?"

"I vote for both," replied that young woman, with much alacrity. "I have met Mr. Noel twice.'

"Capt. Noel. dear," said Regy, "Capt.

"He is not a captain yet, Reginald; I happen to know from the regimental roster; I have a copy upstairs that Capt. Lane very kindly left me." And here a decided finsh stole over the fair cheeks of the young lady. "I learned a good deal about the officers of the regiment from Mr. Lane-Capt. Lane-while be was here. Mr. Noel ranks second among the lientenants of the regiment. As Capt. Lane said, he is so very near his captaincy that perhaps he accepts the title that you all give him at the club as only a trifle pre-nature." "Well, captain or lieutenant, it doesn't make any difference," said Regy, impulsively; "he's a mighty good fellow, and a mighty good friend of your friend Capt. Lane, and if you have no objection. mother, I'll bring him around to dinner o-night, and then perhaps we might go to the theatre afterward. I'm very sure that Capt. Noel will enjoy it. Fact is, he enjoys everything. Everybody in the club is perfectly delighted with him. You ought to hear him sing an Irish song or tell a French story! I'll try and get him started when he comes here. He's a wonderful mimic; and he's so full of information about their service on the anything of the kind; but Noel will talk for hours at a time about the wonderful country through which they have scouted and fought, and all that they have been through in their campaigns. By Jove! but that fellow has seen a lot of hard service, and has been through "That? That's Regy Vincent. Haven't ne was adjutant so much of the time and on other staff duty, while he (Noel) was almost incessantly scouting, hunting after various Indian parties, and being on the warpath, as he laughingly expresses it.

"Does he mean that Cant. Lane didn't see much actual service there?" asked Miss Mabel, with heightened color.

"Oh, I don't know that he means that Don't understand me as saying for a moment that Noel disparages Lane's services; on the contrary, he never speaks of him except with the most enthusiastic regard. Neither does he boast at all of his own service; only you can't help see ing, in the modest offhand way in which he speaks of his campaigning what a deal of hardship and danger he has encountered, for the simple reason that he was with the command that had to go through it all."

"Your father tells me," said Mrs. Vincent, "that he met him one day on Change when Mr. Withers brought him in; that was before the crash, and when he had no time to pay him any attention. Of course, the cousin of Mr. Amos Withers was received with a great deal of bowing and scraping by Mr. Withers' friends in that honorable body. But all the same, I know your father will be glad to meet Mr. Noel now, and by all means bring him, if you feel disposed, to-night. What manner of lookng man is he?"

"A remarkably handsome man, mother." said Mabel at once: "one of the handsomest I ever saw, and he certainly ande himself very entertaining and very jolly the night we sat together at dinner at the Thorntons'."

"There's a great contrast physically between him and Lane," put in Regy. 'Noel is such an elegantly built fellow -so tall and fine looking. Lane would be almost undersized when standing beside him, and is very much at a disadvantage when they appear together, should judge."

A very bright and joyons party it was, eated around the home like table of the Vincents that evening, and, as Regy had predicted. Noel proved very entertaining and a most agreeable guest. While showing much deference to Mr. Vincent and attention to his good wife he nevertheless managed to have a great deal to say about the regiment and its daring and perilous service on the frontier, and to throw in here and there many a pleasant word about Capt. Lane and their long and intimate acquaintance, and before dinner was over had won a warm place in Mabel Vincent's heart by the way in which he so frequently spoke of the man to whom she had plighted her

And that very evening, as Frederick Lanc-far out under the starlit sky of Arizona-with his heart full of longing and love for her, and thinking only of her as he rode over the desolate plain, with the lights of old Fort Graham already in view, Mabel Vincent, seated by Gordon Noel's side, was looking up into his handsome face and listening to his animated voice between the acts of "Twelfth Night."

[TO BE CONTINUED NEXT SATURDAY]

Much injury is done by the use of irritating, griping compounds taken as purgatives. In Ayer's Pills, the patient has a mild but effective cathartic, that can be confidently recommended alike for the most delicate patients as well as the most robust.

I must away to wooded bills and vales, Where broad, low streams flow cool and silently, And idle barges flap their listless sails For me the summer sunset glows and pales, And green fields wait for me.

I long for shadowy forests, where the birds Twitter and chirp at noon from every tree.
I long for blossomed leaves and lowing herds;
And nature's voices say in mystic words,
"The green fields wait for thee."

I dream of uplands where the primrose shines
And waves her yellow lamps above the les,
Of tangled copses swang with trailing vines,
Of open vistas skirted with tall places,
Where green fields wait for me.

inner with me. What say you, mother?

-just informally."

'Don't you think it would be better to wait a day or two, and have a little din

I think of long, aweet afternoons, when I May lie and listen to the distant sea.

Or hear the breezes in the reeds that sigh, Or muset voices chirping shrill and dry

In fields that wait for me.

These dreams of summer come to bid me find While summer's rosy wreaths for me are twine While summer's fragrance lingers on the wind. And green fields wait for me.

> Deep in the wood I made a house Where no one knew the way; I carpeted the flaor with moss, And there I loved to play.

I neard the bubbling of the brook; At times an acorn fell, And far away a robin sang Deep in a lonely dell. I set a rock with acorn cups;

So quietly I played

A rabbit hopped across the moss,

And did not seem afraid. That night before I went to bed I at my window stood, And thought how dark my house u

Looking for a Job.

Tramp-Can you give me s job, mister? Farmer - Well, I dunno. What can ron do? Tramp-I've been hiring out all spring ts a patent seeder.

Farmer-A patentseeder? What in thun der's that? Tramp-Why, you see, when a man gets as seedy as I am all he has to do is to loss around a plowed field and it grows up 'thout putting any crop in. Done any fall plowin' yet?"—Burlington Free Press.

During a Storm. "Gracious! that was an awful clap of thunder; it frightened me terribly.'

'Pooh! thunder can't hurt you.' "Can't eh? Didn't you ever hear of a person being thunderstruck?"—Harper's

New Orleans newspapers announce that Maj. Burke, the defaulter and exeditor who is now in exile in Honduras, is in wretched health. He is said to be suffering from a cancer of the nose. His wife is still in the south of France Can't Sleep Nights

can't Steep Nights

Is the complaint of thousands suffering from asthma, consumption, cougha, etc. Did you ever try Dr. Acker's English Chid you ever try Dr. Acker's English Remedy? It is the best preparation known for all lung troubles. Sold on a positive guarantee at 25c. and 50c. Sold by H. C. Hoberman & Co. and W. B. Foye.

SOME PROBLEMS SOLVED.

BILL NYE SETS THE MINDS OF ANXIOUS INQUIRERS AT REST.

Inside Information About the S. P. C. A. The Most Digestible Part of a Clam Is Its Shell-Home Doses for Alling Hus-

(Copyright by Edgar W. Nee l The following correspondence received during the past week is hereby answered in a brief but succinct manner:

Mrs. R. Hyphen Skinner-McPhelim. of the Windymear flats, New York, contemplates spending the summer on Staten

1 ATE THE WATERMELON.

Island, and asks to know if the island has a society for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

It has, Mrs. Skinner-McPhelim, it has. It is one of the most pungent and vociferous societies for the prevention of good that we have, according to reports. Agents of the organization make it very not for people who own animals, if I am correctly informed in the matter, and I advise you, if you hope to spend the heated term on Staten Island, to leave your carriage horses and other beirlooms at the flat, where they will not be disturbed. Owners here have been stopped on the street, arrested and fined. in fact, for not shoeing their horses, while as a matter of fact they were too poor to even shoe their children. Misguided philanthropy is as injurious to the public welfare as the live rat caught. kerosened and ignited by a farmer in northern Vermont last season. He drove away all the other rats, also the farmer and his family, by burning down the whole ranch. In his nice warm little room at the poorhouse this summer the farmer says to his wife as he inserts another little titbit of mush and molasses among his whiskers, "The overzenlous and ill guided ass as sometimes as dangerous to mankind as the level headed rorne.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals arrested a widow woman on the highway for tying together the hind limbs of a female hog. or swinette, which was being transported from one point to another. Those who have handled hogs know that it is absolutely necessary to tie their legs if they are conveyed by wagon, or they will jump out. The society removed the cords, whereupon the hogine leapt out o the wagon and broke her leg. Prevention people not only sometimes do not frequently know how to handle bogs, but also they do not know how to prevent cruelty. I could name some more of the instances reported, but these will suffice to show you that the society is flourishing, several of the agents doing a very thrifty business who have always failed at everything else in life. The following note comes from a Trojan who has suffered otherwise: MR. Bits. Nys. Kindly give its your experience MR. Bitt. Nym: Kindly give us your experience at and opinion of a claim bake, one of the most at and opinion of a claim bake, one of the Cented States. Very respectfully.

ONE WHO WAS THOROUGHLY DISCUSTED AT ONE

Clam bakes are not always unsuccessful. Even if they are unsuccessful from your own point of view they might not be from the standpoint of the man who prepares them. I was one of a small party of plain American citizens who bought out a clam kiln and colic works last season at Long Branch. I had been accustomed to life among the lowly in years past, having been born of poor but extremely brainy parents. I had also lived in the wild and woolly west, where claims and other specimens of insect life are regarded with distrust. There you can buy, or could at the time I lived there, a hind 1 of elk for $1.50, hang it in your wood shed and feed a good sized family on it for a week. So said to a friend or two: "Here is a natural product of the soil, the cheapest and commonest of God's impervious fauna, the low browed and weak minded clam. We will get some one to bake some for us, then we will eat a watermelon and play that we are amenable to no law, but that we are free and unfettered, and as careless of human life as a steam heating company or a young physician." We ordered no wine, but just clams and watermelon. Another party from New York also ordered a clain bake at the same time, so that the same kiln dried all the clams. In baking clams you heat a lot of stones in a hot fire, throw them in a hole along with your clams, green corn, ground feed, etc., etc. You then cover up the mass, and go away fishing or pitching horse shors till you smell something. That is the claus. You then borrow a six-time patchfork, such as is used by our best livery stable people, and fork out your clams and green corn, serving hot. Guests will wait on themselves. After shotgua with hot fence nails and collect the bill.

I ate the left lobe of three underdone Waterbury claus, an ear of hot seed corn and a slice of soured and pessimistic watermelon. My bill was $23-that is exclusive of nurses and medical attend-

I do not care for class, anyway. I times feel that I would like to, but I can not. Neither can my boots.

I was quite ill after I ate these clams having thrown away the most digestible part, viz., the shell, and foolishly eaten the clam. On the steamer coming home many people who had been greatly disappointed all day in the matter of enjoyment came up on deck, watched my gyra tions a few moments, and went home peaceful and conjented. At the wharf, some of those was had been down to Manhattan Beach to see Pain's "Siege of Vera Cruz," and were bitterly disap pointed, came to where I was gnawing an old anchor and mouning with an inward pain, and after seeing me suffering went home stating that they had more than got their money back. The New England claim bake costs less noney, but is almost equally fatal to me. If you hear of my eating another clam bake you can safely say to yourself that when I did it I was under the influence of liquor. Some siren with bleached hair and merry ogling eye may meet me on the beach and daug me, and feed me clam while singung to me some sweet sad song, but she will have to be better looking than the average fish ball siren of story.

Mrs. Erstwhile Timberlake, of Pon gee, Neb., asks: "What shall I do to re gain my influence over my husband? He gave me his hand in marriage two years ago come next frost, and if ever a man seemed to just doat on any one he doated on me. That's about all he did all that winter in fact, and our victuals got pretty low by spring. Then I spoke harshly to him, and he started for hell via the Little Pansy Blossom saloon on Prunella street. I have tried every way to win him back, such as he is, and have went out of my way to make friends write him more than onct. Will you not come to my succor?"

If you cannot bring him here of course, Mrs. Timberlake, I will have to come to your sucker and speak of him plainly as between man and man. I hope that you have treated him well on the start and given him a fair show. I will take it for granted that you have. If so, now we must resort to more turgid means. I will not tell you, however, what to do. I will only tell you what I knew to be done once in a similar case, and you can think it over, Mrs. Timberlake, and feel perfectly free to help yourself to it if it should strike you favorably:

Mrs. Delay Oleson, of Norridgewock Me., had a husband whom she dearly loved, for he was a fine, manly looking fellow, standing e , threen hands high, and young, too. He fell a victua to prohibition in Maine and became a hard drinker. He had never cared to drink till he found that it was against the law, and so then he couldn't somehow get it out of his mind. Prohibition seemed to constantly remind him that he could not take a drink. So he fell. It occurred at Norridgewock, and could have been distinctly heard for a mile or more. His wife wept a great deal at first, but was not unkind to him. She spoke to him gently and lovingly, and he promised to do better, but he was weak, and the prohibition law kind of gravelled him, as one writer has it. So he fell some more. Mrs. Oleson was a good, sensible little woman, who would not sit calmly on the front stoop and let defeat follow upon the heels of disaster without making a

She told Delay that she would try him once more, and if he failed her she would surely not overlook it as she had before. For a long time he turned his back on the devil's clixir and worked steadily at his trade, which was painting, graining and kalsomining, also breaking colts, gents fine neckwear and justice of the peace. Later on, however, he fell once more.

and came home in a spiral manner. smelling of prohibition whisky, which is also used for etching on glass. She said nothing to him, but undressed him and put him to bed as usual. This is a pleas-- tack Sha laid him on the and then gathering up the edges of the two home made linen sheets she sewed up Delay Oleson therein by means of a stout ball of twine and an upholsterer's needle. He asked for more sir, but she said what he needed was not so much air as it was a little course of massage treatment. So she got a new whip from the barn, such as is used by Mr. Legree in beating out the brains of Uncle Tom in that truly good play, and she knocked the dust out of Delay Oleson till you could hear her all over that block.

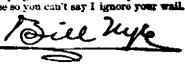

He spoke to her about not doing it any more, but she said she could not yield to entside influence. She must be her own judge regarding the best time to stop. So she ate a little bread and butter, put a new snapper on the whip and went at it again. People passing the house dur ing the night heard Delay sobbing anon the claus are served you load a large and between his sole they could hear the whip crack around his various cornices and fretwork. Finally the weary wife let him out, and fixing a bed for him on the floor she turned out the cat and went to bed. She never had to do so again. Delay after that was another man. He removed to Kentucky, where he would not have the same temptation that were anorded him in Maine, and be cannot come up with a clam. I some came the father of nine children, all of whom were born with what a large welt across the person.

I do not say to you, Mrs. Timberials to do this way with Erstwhile, for it is a severe method, and he might not be drunk enough so that you could now him up, and he might possibly reverse the programme, but I tell you of this case so you can't say I ignore your wail.

Catrled It to Extremes Jones and his wife had just returned from the theatre. Stumbling around the room he had lighted three matches in the apparently vain effort to find something. "What have you lost, my dear?" asked his better half. "A match. I thought I dropped one as we went out. Ah! here it is; there's nothing like being saving in small things."--Judge. Why He Preised Them.

"There is considerable to be said is favor of the cigarette, notwithstanding the abuse that it receives," remarked the portly traveling man to the hotel clerk. 'Now there are circumstances under which cigarettes may make a man comfortable and easy." "Are you an example?" "I am."

"I never see you smoking them."

"Certainly not; I sell them."-Wash A Cinssical Education First Harvard Graduate-Have you received a copy of the catalogue? Second Harvard Graduate-Yes; but 1 san't read it!

First Harvard Graduate-Why so? Second Harvard Graduate-It's in En glish this year, don't you know!—Lowell

Aunt Hester (as the boat goes over)-Save me, Edborough! Oh, Edborou arve me!

Uncle Edborough-I will if you'll de just as I tell you. Aunt Hester-I'll try; but save me

Uncle Edborough-Well, just stand up, will you?-Judge.

Two's Company. "Papa," remarked the senator's daugh ter, looking at the clock.
"What is it, Lou?" asked pape, who had lingered in the parlor with the young people.

"It is 9 o'clock. At this time George and I usually go into executive session. Then pana retired .-- Judge.

Would Shun the Place. McFingle-Say, where do you buy these cigars? McFangle-Well, old man. I don't want every one to know so that they'll become common, but I don't mind telling you. I got them of Smoak & Smellum Lawrence American. Labor Trouble in the Clouds "Now I hope thunder storms are over for the season.

McFingle-Thanks for the warning!-

"How over?" "The paper says that in the tornsdoes yesterday the lightning struck in all parts of the country. Philadelphia Press.

A Sad Case. "Why do you want your daughter sen! to the reform school?" inquired the

"She has gone to writing society novels," grouned the stricken father.-Chicago Tribune.

Not Enough Plate Matter. Blobson-Do look at Editor Stubbal He is nothing but skin and bones. Popiniay-Yes, I am afraid the poor man isn't using enough plate matter now.-Burlington Free Press.

Hard Labor. "How does your fountain pen work?" asked Bjenkins. 'It doesn't." responded Bjones. "I do the working."-Somerville Journal.

> Allegiance. The liberty my fathers won I d gladly die to save.
>
> Neath Freedom's flag my day's begun 'Neath te my mortal span shall run, 'Neath it shall be my grave! The tyrant and his service clau

I scorn, but do not fear. Grand is the brotherhood of man! I am a true republican,

A democrat sincere:

Proud words are they, yet can it be My boast is all in vam? Am I from thralidom wholly free? and doth no tyrant over t

Markinks that bovering in the air A vision I can see

Of form and features passing fair.

With laughing eyes and golden hair— A questo reigns over me'
_R. H. Titherington in West Shore.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

found awaiting him at his office. Half NewspaperARCHIVE® last year."

at it "

GET YOUR FRUIT JARS!

Fruit Can Rubbers

THE # PEOPLE'S # STORE.

OFFICE, NORTH OF JAIL. TELEPHONE, NO. 67

-Cunningham, the plumber.

Coffy & Stone's.

Steam Laundry.

yard at Seffner Bros.'

belts go to Seffner Bros.'

-Watermelons on ice.

gasts, now and save money.

-New York cream cheese.

-Good second-hand plane only $125

-Several good second-hand organs,

at Ackerman's music store. Big bar-close out very cheap. SEFFNER BROS.

low-priced worsted dress goods, suitable for school dresses. SEFFNER BROS.

-We have a splendid assortment of

-A lot of good second-hand sewing machines from $5 up. Call soon and take your choice, at H. Ackerman's

-We have now in stock an elegant

SEFFNER BROS., Masonic Block.

SEFFNER BROS.

-Ladies, do not fail to look through new autumn shades are handsome and of extra fine nutmeg melons which we

-Tonight we will have four barrels line of fine black dress goods, in newest weaves and at popular prices.

-Fancy sweet potatoes.

-Nice cream cheese.

230t2]

gain; call soon.

prices low.

Early Fall Trade an Elegant

Assortment of Choice New Dress

HESE Goods are the very latest iots and Serges, in Plaids or Stripes.

combined with Plain or Full Suits of the Fancy. Call in at once; it will

P. S.—A handsome line of Fringed China Silk Throws, embroidered or in hand-painted in oil

FRAS

▲ and are in Camels' Hair, Cheverman's music store.

-New sweet and sour pickles.

-For prescriptions go to Foye's.

-Who drives the bang-tail horse?

FOR RENT-Four room dweiling on north East street. Apply to James Malloy. [2271]

FOR RENT-Dwelling house on Mt. Vernon avenue, with all conveniences.

Possession on or before Oct. 1st. Inquire (280-1)

POR RENT—House of six rooms, cen-tral location, price $10. Also part of second floor of Contental Block, $9.50. 238codtf.] J. G. LEFFLER, Grocer.

FOR RENT-Rouse in West Marion; Four rooms; only $8 per month.

FOR SALE-Good, gentle horse, can be driven by any lady; will sell cheap. Inquire at residence of Dr. Mincer, 331 Silver street.

LOST—A three-months-old pug pup-three-months old pug pup-turning to T. O. Sharpless.

OTS FOR SALE-On Greenwood and L. George streets, one square north of Huber shops. Rasy terms, to suit pur-chaser. Inquire of F. E. Helse. [was20it]

TO RENT—A nice new house of six rooms on west Canal street. Good well and clatern.

C. C. FISHER, Bennett Building.

TWO ROOMS—Three rooms, four rooms or five rooms for rent. Inquire of L. 229tf

WANTED—Girl to do housework; Ger man preferred. None but good one need apply. Call on Mrs. G. Leffler, on Greenwood street. 224tf

Ot78.00 TO $250.00 A MONTH can be made by working for us Persons preferred who can furnish a horse and give their whole time to the business. Spare moments may be profitably employed also. A few vacancies in towns and cities.

B. F. JOHNSON & CO.,
109 Main Street, Richmond, Va.

-See Prendergast at once if you wish to buy your winter's supply of hard or soft coal. Their prices are extremely low. 183-tf extremely low.

FINE WRITING PAPER.

F YOU'RE INTERESTED in regard to Fine Writing Paper in Tablet Form we can surely suit you. A number of New Papers in Ruled and Plain to be had in COMMERCIAL,

PACKET AND

LETTER SIZES.

Laid and Wove Papers, Rough and will sell at low prices: also fancy York Smooth Finish—a Very Handsome state blackberries, huckleberries, fancy

C. G. WIANT'S. letc.

Goods in pay you.

PATTERN

AT LOW PRICES Hard or Ecft LINSLEY &LAWRENCE -The Sterling Stove. West Street, Between Railroads. -For drugs go to Foye's.

205tf.

MOORE & DEDRICK.

COFFY & STONE.

Moore & Deprick.

COFFY & STONE.

-Pearl Sagebiel, of Kenton, spent Friday with his friend, Will Wiant, in

-Miss Emma Thomas has left for a -Extra large fresh water melons at visit among friends at Cleveland and Vermillion, O. -Bring your work to the Marion

Miss Kling, arrived home from Chau--Black dress silks from $1 to $2 per tauqua on Friday.

-For the latest novelties in ladies' on the way to recovery.

-Prof. Lillie R. Moore, of Buchtel College, Akron, Ohio, is visiting her friend, Mrs. Ed. Seffner. -Mrs. McCarty, of Indianopolis, Ind., aunt of George Dedrick, is the guest of -Order your screen doors at Prender-Mr. and Mrs. Dedrick, on south Main them, too, who from physical and men-

Sandusky, spent Friday afternoon in the city, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. would E. Rhoads. -Mrs. Ella Lee and her mother, Mrs. Mouser, are both reported ill at their home on the Hill, Mrs. Mouser being quite seriously so. -Mrs. A. G. Crouse arrived home Friday night from Westerville, Ohio, father was smitten with the daughter-from $25 up (big bargains), at H. Ackabout four weeks. -Miss Ella Neely, of Greenville, O., -Remnants of wool dress goods, after a pleasant visit of two weeks afrom 2 to 8 yards in length, we will mong relatives and friends in this city, returned to her home today. -Misses Millie Hughey and Lillian West, who have been visiting relatives and friends in this city, will return to their homes, in Nevada, Sunday.

-Mrs. Chas. Morrison and Miss Daisy Porter returned from Urbana

friends and attending camp meeting. -Revs. Hale and Neal conducted the funeral services of Mrs. Sophia Sulli- of appropriateness and beauty. But a van, this morning, previous to the remains being taken to Green Camp for on a succession of weird and unpleas-our new stock of fall dress goods. The burial. -W. P. Hale, pastor of the Free Baptist church, will preach at the Presbyterian church Sabbath at 11 a. m. Sub-

Luke, 12, 47-48. tomatoes, cheap watermelons, bananas, here from Barnesville, Ohio, next Thursday and will occupy the resi- imens, and altogether amusing, is redence to be vacated by C. E. Sargent, en east Center street.

-Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Pettit and laughter left today for Cincinnati, there they will remain a few days and then go to the mountains of Virginia and Tennessee for a short vacation.

-Mr. and Mrs. D.B. Morrill and children have returned home from Huron, after spending four weeks very pleas- complaint against the hostelry. He antly on the lakeside. Miss Alta Cleve- was a beggar, mind you, and the money visit here for a short time.

-Two more lots in Orchard Mound have been sold and deeded this week, and two very good houses, we are told, will be built at once. Canal street has been completely graded and good walks on both sides will be laid next week.

home and that elegant and genial gentleman is similing as hapily as though he had a family of democratic voters.

-Miss Kate R. Blair, who has held the position as principal of the Marion High School for five years, this week sent in her resignation from Chautau- gentleman who had, by many years of qua, where she has been spending her acation. The board of education held a special session Friday evening at which the resignation was accepted. and the clerk was ordered to correspond for applicants to fill the vacancy. Miss Blair's reason for resigning is that she has received a position in a Columbus high school at a salary of $1500. double the amount she received here. A great many will regret to see the time, and then a third, until the man iady leave Marion, but will wish her success in her new field of labor.

LOCAL OBSERVATIONS.

In all the court history of Marion county there has been but one criminal sentenced to capital punishment, and that sentence was afterward reversed by the supreme court of the state, so that the county has never as yet been credited with a hanging. The case referred to was that of Edward Robbins, who was indicted at the November term of the common pleas court in 1857, for the murder of Nancy Holly. The woman died in this city, July 29, 1857 from the effects, as was proven in court, of a dose of strychnine administered by Robbins, who had followed her here from Shelby county, Ohio, to avert the possibility of becoming the father of her illegitimate offspring. Robbins was a married man and Nancy Holly had been a domestic in his home. He was convicted of the murder at the March term of court in 1858 and sentenced to be hanged. The case was then carried to the supreme court on error, and before the day of Robbins hanging that court reversed the judgment of the common pleas and "remanded the cause for further proceed The common pleas court again tried the case and found a verdict of murder in the second degree, and Robbins was sent to the penitentiary for life, but after serving a short time he he was pardoned by the governor. The STAR finds a great deal of curiosity among citizens to know if there is any probability of the bad, very bad sidewalks being improved during the present season. The people have evidently expected too much by the change that was effected in the city government at the last election, and some things that were so hopefully anticipated don't materialize. But sidewalk repairs have been woefully neglected. True, we have had the general sidewalk ordinance, but it does not repair walks that are in a bad, even dangerous condition. Heretofore we have had the sidewalk repair ordinance every spring; it was a seasonable bit -Mrs. Geo. H. Kling and daughter, of literature and came along with spring poetry and birds. It is now past Marion. midsummer, and all the defective -Mrs. B. F. Davis, who has been con- walks, except in cases where pride or fined so long with serious sickness, is private enterprise has inspired improvement, are in the same condition. The city council, as a body, is not to blame for this. The council works on the recommendation of its committees. There are some queer couples who get married now and then, some of tal standpoints are ineligible, and the -Robert Carey and wife, of Upper law apparently has no preventing pow-However, there are some who would like to that don't, and a case of this kind was recently brought to the attention of the STAR. The instance reterred to occurred a few weeks ago, when an elderly man wanted to marry his daughter-in-law. His wife died, and subsequently his son-leaving a widow of more or less attraction. The where she has been visiting her parents in-law, and after her widow's weeds had become respectfully sered he had formed the notion of perpetuating her in the family circle. But great expecta-tions are often never realized, and so it turned out in this case, for on making application for license at probate court he was refused on the ground of relationship by affinity. The possibility of $4 allows privilege of stopping at Lake the man thus becoming the grandfather of his own children was averted.

A case is reported where a Marion Friday, where they had been visiting lady spent considerable time preparing her burial robes, so that she might have them according to her own ideas near approach to completion brought ant reflections, and the idea was given up. The woman still lives, with the same apparent relish of life.

are encountered about the city every day, quite as strange comparatively eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effect--Sup't Powell and family will move and as much at variance as the types ual in acting on the kidneys, liver and of men. But one of the cheekiest speclated to have been met with last week. He came to the city and spent the night at one of the best hotels. In relating the circumstance the next morning to a gentleman he complained of his treatment, stating that he had been called at S o'clock and was evidently much grieved to think he had not been allowed sufficient rest. His breakfast was poor, and he entered a general land accompanied them home and will with which he had paid his bill had been received from charitably inclined people who had responded to his "canvass," as he called his alms-collecting. The fellow was intelligent, having a fair education, but had met with a mis fortune in youth that had rendered him a life-cripple. But his inveterate and self-sustaining cheek was paralyz--The news of the arrival of a haby ing and placed the owner in the front girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John rank of gentlemanly beggars. He dis-H. Thomas, four or five days ago, al- played a neat little roll of bills from most escaped the STAR. This makes which to draw on in emergencies and the fourth daughter in Mr. Thomas's stated that he always felt more independent when thus equipped.

A really pathetic case of extreme parsimony came to the attention of the STAR during the sickness and death of an old citizen of the county not many moons since. It was that of a incessant toil, united with business capacity, accumulated a very comfortable fortune. He became sick and the necessity of a physician was grievous to his notion of economy. At the first sign of improvement the doctor was dismissed and the patient resorted to parent medicines. Then a reispse brought the physician again and the first experience was repeated a second grew worse beyond recovery, and died. Prices Reasonable. leaving a large estate.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Fair weather; southeasterly winds; warmer in northern, stationary temperature in southern portion.

> SEE the Superb Line of Novelty Dress Goods, Elegant Robes and Pattern Suits. All of the New Shades in Plaids and Plain Fabrics.

Warner & Edwards

$1 Kid Gloves For 69c.

A new line of Serges in all the New Fall Shades, with Plaid Surah Silk to match, at attractive prices.

A large lot of elegant new Black All-wool and Silk-warp Henriettas and Serges at prices so low that they will astonish you. These goods were bought in large quantities to get them cheap, and are marked at prices that should close them out in a few days.

Our stock of Black Silks is complete, and all we ask is, if you SIR WALTER! intend getting Silk Dresses of any kind, for you to come and sea us before you make your selection.

room for the largest and best stock of Kid Gloves ever brought to ODAFFER & HINDS,

D. A. FRANK & CO.,

White Front in the Masonic Block.

No. 41 SOUTH MAIS STREET, 1 DOOR NORTH OF COPPY & STONE'S, Zaráwaro, Tinwaro, Queensware, Dey Goods and Motions of All Einds. Clark's O. N. T. Thread, Silk Ribbon, per yard, 2 to 15c Lamp Chimneys, all sizes, 5c Corsets, 25 to 16c Carpet Tacks, per paper, 18
Thread, 200 yards, per spool, 500 fc
Ginghams, per yard, 500 fc sealing Wax,..... 4c

U.S. AUCTION SYNDICATE

Bowls and Pitchers.... Accordeons, very best. $3.00 Bits, all siz s, very cheap.

H. M. AULT'S Fire and Tornado

OFFICE: Bennett Block, First Stairway East of Postoffice.

This Elegant CIGAR is sold by Center Street, . - Opp. Court House.

IT BEARS ACQUAINTANCE!

INTRODUCE YOUR FRIENDS!

PLUMBING,

W. N. J. L.

Washington, Aug. 16. — Charlotte Smith, president of the Weman's National Industrial League of America, has issued a call to the women of the civilized world, inviting them to attend the Woman's International Industrial Congress, to meet at Chicago during the quadro-centennial celebration in 1893. PLUMBING, PLUMBING! PLUMBING.

> None but Experienced Workmen. All Work Guaranteed.

Remember the "Big 4" excursion for Chautauqua, and a visit to Toronto for a dollar more, or Thousand Islands for only $5 more. Trains leave Marion at 7:33 p. m. August 19th and returning leave the Falls at 8:30 p. m., August 21st, while those desiring longer limit have the privelege of returning on all regular trains within five days from date of sale.

unadro-centennial celebration in 1893.
The congress is intended to consider problems of woman's advancement in connection with the Woman's Industrial department of the world's fair which

Population of Saginaw, Mich.

Washington, Aug. 16.—The rough count of the population of Saginaw, Mich., completed by the ceusus office, shows the population to be 49,215. In 1880, the area now within the city limits comprised the town of East Saginaw, as well as Saginaw. The increase in the population is 16,628, or 56.29 per

The Niagara Excursion.

the league is working to establish.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, Numerous cases of strange beggars under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasing

> At St. Paul's. There will be services at St. Paul's at the usual hours Sunday morning and evening. REV. W. M. LTCAS, Pastor.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the Ivory." They are not, but like all counterfeits, they lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for Ivory Soap insist upon having it. 'Tis sold everywhere.

EMMET DRAKE. Over Kling's hardware store

All Work Warranted

VAUGEAN & ALLEN,

236 NORTH MAIN STREET.

BRINKERHOFF SYSTEM OF RECTAL TREATMENT Piles, Fistula, Fissure, Polypus, Rectal

Ulceration and Chronic Diarrhosa cured without the use of knife, ecrasure or cautery. No ansethetics! No detention from business! 300,000 operations performed with the system and no deaths! STEPTOMS:—Pain, bleeding, burning or protrusion at time of or after stool; schirg in lower portion of back and in the limbs; frequent urination; passages of muons and mattery substance; itching about anus; constipation, followed as disease progresses by diarrhosa. Reference, on application, to prominent citizens of Marion whom I have treated. DR. E. A. THORP, of Drs. BRINKER-HOFF & THORP, will be at Hotel Marion, DAY OF WEEK MAY JUNE JULY AUG. SEPT. Thursday, 1-29 26 24 21 18

And on Thursday every four weeks thereafter. Address all communications to Drs. Brinkerhoff & Thorp, 80 Madison street, Chicago, Ill.

Stable. Street Livery Main Successor Bros., are: outs in th

TELEPHONE NUMBER 10.

Horses

Rigs!

COAL!

NORTH MAIN STREET.

COAL!

Buy your Coal at once from

PRENDERGASTS

And save Twenty-five Per Cent.

COAL!

COAL!

BEST 25-CENT MEAL

In the State. Tickets good for Twenty Meals for $3.50. Meals of all kinds served to order, at any hour. POSITIVELY THE LARGEST AND BEST LINE OF CIGARS IN THE CITY. B. HALL, Proprietor.

JOHN FRASH.

NewspaperARCHIVE®.